What's New

- An employer who files 25 or more Forms W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, must electronically file Form CT-W3, Connecticut Annual Reconciliation of Withholding, and all Forms W-2 reporting Connecticut wages paid to employees with the Department of Revenue Services (DRS) through the Taxpayer Service Center (TSC).
- DRS now issues separate publications for employers who withhold Connecticut income tax for their employees and for payers of nonpayroll amounts who withhold Connecticut income tax for payees.

Employers: Refer to this Informational Publication 2009(1), Connecticut Employer's Tax Guide - Circular CT, and Informational Publication 2008(17.1), Form W-2 Electronic Filing Requirements for Tax Year 2008.

Payers: Refer to Informational Publication 2009(8), Connecticut Tax Guide for Payers of Nonpayroll Amounts, and Informational Publication 2008(16), Forms 1099-R, 1099-MISC, and W-2G Electronic Filing Requirements for Tax Year 2008.

Calendar of Duties

If the due date falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the next business day is the due date.

Employer's Classification Determines When Payments Are Required to Be Made

Weekly remitters must pay over Connecticut income tax withholding with Form CT-WH, Connecticut Withholding Tax Payment Form, on or before the Wednesday following the weekly period during which the wages were paid.

Monthly remitters must pay over Connecticut income tax withholding with Form CT-WH on or before the fifteenth day of the month following the month during which the wages were paid.

Quarterly remitters must pay over Connecticut income tax withholding with Form CT-941 on or before the last day of the month following the quarterly period during which the wages were paid.

See Household Employers on Page 10 and Employers on Page 16.

On or Before April 30, July 31, October 31, and January 31

Employers must file Form CT-941, Connecticut Quarterly Reconciliation of Withholding, even if no tax is due or has been withheld for the quarter, together with required copies of Form CT-W4, Employee's Withholding Certificate, claiming exempt status from the tax and given to you by employees during that quarter. Send copies of Form CT-W4 to DRS only as required.

See Employee's Withholding Certificate on Page 13.

On or Before January 31

Employers must give federal Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, to each employee to whom Connecticut wages were paid during the preceding calendar year.

On or Before February 15

Employers must obtain a new Form CT-W4 from each employee who claimed exempt status (Withholding Code "E") from Connecticut withholding in the prior year.

On or After February 16

Employers must begin withholding at a flat rate of 5%, without allowance for exemption, from each employee who claimed exempt status from Connecticut income tax withholding in the prior year and who did not provide a new Form CT-W4 on or before February 15. The Form CT-W4 previously filed by the employee claiming exemption has now expired.

On or Before the Last Day of February

Employers who file 24 or fewer Forms W-2 using paper forms must file Form CT-W3, Connecticut Annual Reconciliation of Withholding, together with every state copy of federal Form W-2 reporting Connecticut wages paid to employees during the prior calendar year.

State copies of federal Form W-2 are required for all employees to whom Connecticut wages were paid during the prior calendar year even if no Connecticut income tax was withheld during the calendar year.

On or Before March 31

Employers who file 25 or more Forms W-2 must electronically file Form CT-W3 and all federal Forms W-2 reporting Connecticut wages paid to employees during the prior calendar year.

Frequently-Asked Questions

1. Am I an employer?

You are a Connecticut employer only if you have employees to whom you pay Connecticut wages whether or not you are required to withhold Connecticut income tax. If you do not have employees to whom you pay Connecticut wages, you are not required to be registered with the Department of Revenue Services (DRS) to withhold Connecticut income tax.

2. Does this booklet contain all the information I need to withhold Connecticut income tax from my employees?

Yes. The instructions, withholding tables, and calculation rules are all included in Informational Publication 2009(1), Connecticut Employer's Tax Guide - Circular CT.

3. Will DRS mail a Quarterly Reconciliation to employers just like the IRS?

No. Form CT-941, Connecticut Quarterly Reconciliation of Withholding, is included in the Employer's Withholding Remittance Coupon Book previously mailed to all employers. Form CT-941 is preprinted with the number of the quarter and due dates. Employers must use the preprinted form.

4. Does DRS publish any information to assist employees in calculating the amount to have withheld from their paychecks?

Yes. Informational Publication 2009(7), Is My Connecticut Withholding Correct?, is designed to help individuals decide if they are having enough tax withheld. A copy of that publication is available on the DRS website at www.ct.gov/DRS or from the DRS Forms Unit.

5. What is the difference between gross Connecticut wages and gross wages?

Gross wages means the sum of wages paid to all your employees regardless of where they work. The amount of gross wages you report on Form CT-941 for a calendar quarter must correspond with the amount reported on federal Form 941 for that quarter.

Gross Connecticut wages means the sum of:

- All wages paid to resident employees. Connecticut wages paid to resident employees are wages paid to resident employees regardless of where their services are performed. While the amount of Connecticut wages paid to a resident employee will generally equal the amount of the employee's wages for federal income tax withholding purposes, the amounts may differ if the employee is a party to a civil union recognized under Connecticut law. See Withholding Tax for Employees in a Civil Union or in a Marriage Under Kerrigan on Page 6; and
- All wages paid to nonresident employees. Connecticut wages paid to nonresident employees are wages paid to nonresident employees for services performed in Connecticut.

6. Who is required to file electronically with DRS?

Employers who file 25 or more Forms W-2 reporting Connecticut wages, even if no Connecticut tax is withheld, are required to file electronically with DRS. DRS will accept paper informational returns from employers who file 24 or fewer Forms W-2 reporting Connecticut wages paid. However, employers are encouraged to file electronically using the key and send option described on Page 7.

7. Will failure to file informational returns electronically result in the assessment of penalties?

Yes. Unless DRS has granted a waiver, employers required to file electronically are treated as having failed to file if they file paper forms instead of filing electronically. A penalty of $5 is imposed for each informational return that an employer fails to file with DRS by the last day of March if filing electronically or by the last day of February if submitting CD files or filing paper forms. The maximum penalty imposed is $2,000 for any calendar year.

8. Where can I get information on filing electronically with DRS?

Employees should refer to Informational Publication 2008(17.1), Form W-2 Electronic Filing Requirements for Tax Year 2008.

9. How does an employer request a waiver from filing informational returns electronically?

DRS may waive the electronic filing requirement if an employer can show hardship. To request a waiver of the electronic filing requirements, an employer must complete and submit a paper Form CT-8508, Request for Waiver From Filing Informational Returns Electronically, on or before January 15. DRS will only notify the employer whose request for waiver have been denied.

Employers who have requested and received a waiver from filing electronically are encouraged to submit files to DRS on CD using the Form CT-6559, Submitter Report for Form W-2 CD Filing, and, if applicable, Form CT-6559A, Continuation Sheet for Form CT-6559.

10. How does an employer request an extension of time to file informational returns?

To request an extension, an employer must complete and submit Form CT-8809, Request for Extension of Time to File Informational Returns, on or before March 31 if filing electronically or the last day of February if not filing electronically. DRS only notifies payers whose extension requests have been denied. Form CT-8809 cannot be filed electronically.

11. Are any paper forms required if I file electronically?

No. You do not submit paper copies of any electronically filed forms.

12. How does an employer report changes on a previously-filed electronic submission?

Any changes to files submitted electronically through the TSC must be made using paper forms. Once a file is successfully transmitted, the TSC no longer provides the option to return to a file and correct Form W-2 and Form CT-W3. If a particular Form W-2 is omitted, that form must be sent in on paper with a corrected Form CT-W3.

13. How can a filer submit data when there is a requirement for the data to be protected?

Electronic filing of informational returns through the TSC is a free, fast, easy, and secure way to conduct business with DRS. The connection created during your session with the TSC encrypts all information sent from the filer until the information is delivered to DRS, thus keeping data secure while in transport.

Important Information for Connecticut Employers

All withholding requirements, tables, and forms effective January 1, 2009, are included in this Informational Publication 2009(1), Connecticut Employer's Tax Guide – Circular CT.

Withholding Tax for Employees in Civil Unions or in a Marriage Under Kerrigan

For taxable year 2008, the Connecticut filing status options are single, filing jointly for federal and Connecticut, filing jointly for Connecticut only, filing separately for federal and Connecticut, filing separately for Connecticut only, head of household, and qualifying widow(er) with dependent child.

The filing status for individuals who are parties to a civil union recognized under Connecticut law or in a marriage recognized under Kerrigan v. Commissioner of Public Health, 289 Conn. 135 (2008) (Kerrigan) is either filing jointly for Connecticut only or filing separately for Connecticut only.

The chart below illustrates how the new Connecticut filing status options for the 2008 taxable year relate to the filing status options for the 2007 taxable year.

2007 Filing Status Option	2008 Filing Status Option
Single	Single
Head of household	Head of household
Qualifying widow(er) with dependent child	Qualifying widow(er) with dependent child
Married filing jointly	Filing jointly for federal and Connecticut
Married filing separately	Filing separately for federal and Connecticut
Civil union filing jointly	Filing jointly for Connecticut only
Civil union filing separately	Filing separately for Connecticut only

Except as otherwise noted, any reference in these instructions to filing jointly includes filing jointly for federal and Connecticut and filing jointly for Connecticut only. Likewise, filing separately includes filing separately for federal and Connecticut and filing separately for Connecticut only.

An employee who is a party to a civil union recognized under Connecticut law or a spouse in a marriage under Kerrigan should complete Form CT-W4, Employee's Withholding Certificate, and choose the appropriate withholding code of filing jointly or filing separately. This helps to ensure the employee will have the correct amount of Connecticut income tax withheld from his or her wages.

The fact that an employee is a party to a civil union or a spouse in a marriage under Kerrigan does not affect the amount of the employee's wages subject to federal income tax withholding or the amount of federal income tax required to be withheld from the employee's wages, but may affect the amount of Connecticut income tax required to be withheld from the employee's Connecticut wages (the amount of an employee's wages subject to Connecticut income tax withholding). An employee who is a party to a civil union or a spouse in a marriage under Kerrigan may have Connecticut wages that are less than the employee's wages for federal income tax withholding purposes. Some benefits provided by employers covering the spouse of an employee are nontaxable fringe benefits for federal tax purposes, but the same benefits provided by employers covering the employee's civil union partner or spouse in a marriage under Kerrigan are taxable fringe benefits for federal tax purposes. Because for Connecticut income tax purposes parties to a civil union recognized under Connecticut law are treated in the same manner as married individuals, benefits provided by employers covering the employee's civil union partner or spouse in a marriage under Kerrigan are nontaxable fringe benefits for Connecticut tax purposes, and not includable in the Connecticut wages of the employee, if the same benefits covering the spouse of an employee are nontaxable fringe benefits for federal tax purposes.

For example, if employer-provided health insurance coverage for an employee's spouse is a nontaxable fringe benefit for federal income tax purposes, then employer-provided health insurance coverage for an employee's civil union partner or a spouse in a marriage under Kerrigan is a nontaxable fringe benefit for Connecticut income tax withholding purposes and not includable in the Connecticut wages of the employee. Or, if an employer provides a cafeteria plan package that allows employees to use pre-tax income for health insurance payments and the premiums for an employee's spouse are a pre-tax salary reduction for federal income tax purposes, then the premiums for an employee's civil union partner or a spouse in a marriage under Kerrigan are a pre-tax salary reduction for Connecticut income tax withholding purposes and not includable in the Connecticut wages of the employee.

For information on civil unions recognized under Connecticut law, visit the Attorney General's website at www.ct.gov/ag for Attorney General Opinion No. 2005-024.

Connecticut Employers Must File Form CT-941 Even If They File Form 944 for Federal Employment Taxes

Certain employers will receive written notification from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) stating that they are included in the Form 944 Program and may file federal Form 944, Employer's Annual Federal Tax Return, rather than federal Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return. These employers must continue to file Form CT-941, Connecticut Quarterly Reconciliation of Withholding, for Connecticut withholding tax purposes.

Electronic Filing Through the Taxpayer Service Center (TSC)

Connecticut taxpayers can either key in or upload withholding information through the electronic TSC. The TSC is an interactive tool that can be accessed through the DRS website at www.ct.gov/DRS for a free, fast, easy, and secure way to conduct business with DRS.

Other features of the TSC include the ability to view current account balances, make scheduled payments, and amend certain business tax returns. The self-service aspect of the TSC enables taxpayers to easily get answers to the most frequently-asked questions.

Federal Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, and Form CT-W3, Connecticut Annual Reconciliation of Withholding, may be transmitted through the TSC. See TSC Filing Options for Forms W-2 and CT-W3 below.

TSC Filing Options for Forms W-2 and CT-W3

The TSC makes filing informational returns easier while ensuring the security of the data being transmitted. Taxpayers or preparers can use the TSC to key and send or upload forms using either of the following filing methods:

- Using the bulk filing capabilities assigned to their current Connecticut tax registration number; or
- Completing an application and being issued a separate Third Party Bulk Filer (TPBF) Identification Number. This option is available for tax preparers who are filing for their clients and are not registered with DRS.

With bulk filing capabilities, you may then select and begin to file your informational returns online. After you have entered all your W-2s, you must transmit Form CT-W3 to complete the filing process. The informational returns are not accepted until Form CT-W3 has been filed. You will receive a unique confirmation number for each Form CT-W3 submitted. The confirmation number is your proof of filing.

Three Options to Electronically File Forms W-2 and CT-W3 Through the TSC

1. Key and Send

The key and send method is recommended for taxpayers and preparers that submit 50 or fewer informational returns. This option allows you to enter several individual employees' W-2 information with a single login process. Once you have entered all the informational returns, you will be directed to Form CT-W3. The TSC will populate the required information from the keyed data. You must verify all your figures and complete the quarterly breakdown of the total Connecticut tax withheld. The informational returns entered are not transmitted until a confirmation number has been issued for Form CT-W3 by the TSC.

2. Dynamic Web Import (DWI)

DWI is a file import process that allows you to dynamically define and upload your informational returns. The DWI tool does not support the standard electronic file formats used by the Internal Revenue Services (IRS). Using the DWI tool you can prepare a file with your employee figures. Each field in the file will represent a line item from a return you are reporting. You can arrange the fields in any order by defining your own customized layout. If any informational return is uploaded with errors, DRS will provide listings and explanations of the failed records. You will need to correct and resubmit the file. Once all informational returns are uploaded, you will be directed to Form CT-W3 where the TSC will have automatically filled in most of the information based on the successfully uploaded informational returns. You must verify all figures and complete the quarterly breakout of the total Connecticut tax withheld reported. You must complete Form CT-W3 at this time during the process. The informational returns uploaded will not be transmitted to DRS until you receive a confirmation number for the associated Form CT-W3 from the TSC.

3. Batch File Import/Upload Utilizing Standard File Layout

Requirements: Must register as a third party bulk filer. See Informational Publication 2008(17.1), Form W-2 Electronic Filing Requirements for Tax Year 2008.

Batch file upload allows you to submit a file using the standard file layouts defined in Informational Publication 2008(17.1). On completion of the file upload, the TSC will generate a results file that will acknowledge the success or failure of your file. If an informational return is uploaded with errors, the results file will provide details of the failed records with an explanation. You will need to correct and resubmit the entire file. The informational returns entered have not been transmitted to DRS until you receive a confirmation number for Form CT-W3.

Once you have successfully uploaded all your returns, you must return to the withholding sub-menu. Select Form CT-W3, choose the period end, and proceed to Form CT-W3. You must verify your figures and complete the quarterly breakout of the total Connecticut tax withheld reported.

When to Submit Exempt Forms CT-W4 to DRS

Employers are only required to submit Forms CT-W4 to DRS in certain circumstances. Do not send exempt Forms CT-W4 to DRS unless the conditions under Reporting Certain Employees to DRS on Page 13 are met.

Rules for Employers

Each employer is required to withhold Connecticut income tax from employee wages at the time wages are paid and is required to pay over the Connecticut income tax withholding to DRS according to the employer's remitter classification. DRS will notify most employers of their new filing frequency before mailing their 2009 Employer's Withholding Remittance Coupon Book. Most new employers will be classified as monthly remitters.

Each calendar year DRS will classify an employer either as a weekly remitter, monthly remitter, or quarterly remitter. An employer's classification has nothing to do with how often the employer pays its employees or how often the employer is required to pay over Connecticut income tax withholding to DRS. The classification relates to how much time an employer has to pay over Connecticut income tax withholding to DRS after wages are paid to employees and Connecticut income tax is deducted and withheld from those wages. An employer's classification is based on the employer's reported liability for Connecticut income tax withholding during the 12-month look-back period. The 12-month look-back period for calendar year 2009 is the 12-month period that ended on June 30, 2008.

See Special Notice 2004(9), 2004 Legislation Affecting Connecticut Income Tax Withholding by Employers on Wages Paid On or After January 1, 2005.

Private Delivery Services

When sending forms, returns, or payments to DRS, employers may use certain private delivery services in addition to the U.S. Postal Service and satisfy the timely filed and timely payment rules.

See Policy Statement 2008(3), Designated Private Delivery Services and Designated Types of Service.

Supplemental Tables for Joint Filers Where Both Spouses Work

Employees who file a joint income tax return where both spouses work and choose Withholding Code "A" on Form CT-W4 should refer to the supplemental tables on Form CT-W4, effective January 1, 2009, to ensure the correct amount of tax is withheld.

Employers should post Announcement 2009(1), Information for Married Individuals or Civil Union Partners Who Are Both Employed and File a Joint Connecticut Income Tax Return. See Page 25 for a copy.

Requesting Annual Withholding Filer Status

An employer not required to deduct and withhold any amount of Connecticut income tax from wages of employees for all four calendar quarters of a calendar year may request annual filer status. Once annual filer status is granted, the employer files Form CT-941 only for the last calendar quarter of each calendar year and reports Connecticut wages paid during the entire calendar year.

A written request for annual filer status may be submitted with a completed REG-1, Business Taxes Registration Application. The written request must state that the employer will not have a Connecticut income tax withholding liability. Employers already registered to withhold Connecticut income tax may request annual filer status by sending the Registration Unit a written request on or before the last day of the calendar quarter of the calendar year to which the request pertains. The employer will receive notice from DRS granting or denying permission for annual filer status. If permission is granted, a new request is not required for succeeding calendar years as long as the employer continues to have no Connecticut income tax withholding liability.

Common Filing Errors

Filing errors can result in a failure or delay in processing of informational returns or improper crediting of withholding payments to your account. Most errors relate to the use of incorrect, outdated, or mismatched state and federal identification numbers. To avoid these errors and DRS inquiries, it is important to verify the following items prior to submitting your informational returns.

- Verify that CT-W3 and W-2 forms list the same state and federal identification numbers for which you have made withholding deposits during the tax year. Taxpayers who make a deposit under one registration number and submit CT-W3 and W-2 forms with a different registration number may receive a billing notice based on this discrepancy.
- If you use a payroll processing company, verify that your payroll company has made withholding deposits under your company's registration number and has issued W-2 forms using the same number. Payroll companies must use each client's separate identification number for withholding deposits and wage reporting for the client's employees.
- Verify that CT-W3 and W-2 forms list state and federal identification numbers that correspond with each other. Taxpayers often report mismatched identification numbers. Use of mismatched federal and state identification numbers can result in the improper application of withholding deposits and further DRS inquiries. Mismatched identification numbers often occur when a change in ownership results in a change to state and federal identification numbers or when a taxpayer operates multiple business entities.

- An employer who operates more than one business entity is required to maintain separate withholding registrations for each entity. The employer must make withholding deposits and issue W-2 forms for each separate entity.
- If an employer goes out of business or permanently stops paying wages, the employer should notify DRS immediately by filing Form CT-941 for the current quarter. The employer must check the box indicating the employer no longer has employees and must enter the last payroll date on the line provided on Form CT-941. Failure to notify DRS of this event could result in collections actions and may subject the employer to penalties for failure to file for subsequent tax periods.

Instructions

Who Is Required to Withhold Connecticut Income Tax

Anyone who maintains an office or transacts business in Connecticut and who is considered an employer for federal withholding purposes must withhold Connecticut income tax whether or not the payroll department is located in Connecticut. Any employer required to withhold Connecticut income tax must register for withholding tax with DRS.

How to Register for Withholding Tax

An employer not already registered with DRS, including an employer starting a new business, must register to withhold Connecticut income tax by completing Form REG-1, *Business Taxes Registration Application. Form REG-1 is also used to register a business for most other state taxes, including sales and use taxes and corporation business tax.

An employer already registered with DRS for other state taxes is still required to register to withhold Connecticut income tax and must complete Form REG-1 to register for withholding as an additional tax.

An employer who acquires an existing business must also complete Form REG-1 to obtain a Connecticut tax registration number. The new owner cannot use the previous owner's tax registration number or withholding tax coupons.

The DRS tax registration number and federal employer identification number must appear on all Connecticut withholding forms and on all correspondence with DRS. Do not use the registration number issued by the Department of Labor (DOL) on DRS forms.

Household Employers

A household employer is not required to withhold Connecticut income tax from the wages of a household employee(s) but may do so voluntarily by agreement between the employer and the employee(s). A household employer who agrees to withhold Connecticut income tax must register with DRS for withholding by submitting a completed Form REG-1 indicating the employer is a household employer and wishes to register to withhold Connecticut income tax from wages of household employee(s). A household employer who is registered to withhold Connecticut income tax is not required to file Form CT-941 for each calendar quarter, but instead is required to file one Form CT-941 (DRS/P), Connecticut Reconciliation of Withholding for Household Employers, for the entire calendar year. Income tax withheld from the wages of household employees during the entire calendar year is remitted with Form CT-941 (DRS/P). The due date of Form CT-941 (DRS/P) is April 15 of the following calendar year.

Every household employer is required to file with DRS the state copy of federal Form(s) W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, along with Form CT-W3, *Connecticut Annual Reconciliation of Withholding, whether or not the employer is registered to withhold Connecticut income tax from wages of household employee(s) and whether or not the employer has withheld any Connecticut income tax. On Form CT-W3, a household employer reports Connecticut wages paid to household employee(s) during the entire calendar year. The due date of Form CT-W3 is the last day of February following the end of the calendar year if filed using paper forms or March 31 if filed electronically. A household employer who is not registered to withhold Connecticut income tax should enter the words "Household Employer" in the space reserved for the Connecticut tax registration number on Form CT-W3.

Agricultural Employers

An agricultural employer is required to be registered to withhold Connecticut income tax from the cash wages of agricultural employees if the employer is required to withhold federal income tax from those wages. An agricultural employer is required to withhold federal income tax from the cash wages of agricultural employees if those wages are subject to Social Security and Medicare tax withholding. See IRS Publication 51 (Circular A), Agricultural Employer's Tax Guide.

An agricultural employer who is not required to withhold Connecticut income tax from the wages of agricultural employees may do so voluntarily by agreement between the employer and the employees. An agricultural employer who agrees to withhold Connecticut income tax must register with DRS for withholding by submitting a completed Form REG-1 and indicate the employer has only agricultural employees and wishes to register to withhold Connecticut income tax from wages of those employees.

An agricultural employer may request annual filer status by submitting a completed Form REG-1 and indicate the employer has only agricultural employees and wishes to register to withhold Connecticut income tax from the wages of those employees, files federal Form 943, Employer's Annual Federal Tax Return for Agricultural Employees, and wishes to file one Form CT-941 for the entire calendar year. An agricultural employer who is granted annual filer status is not required to file Form CT-941 for each calendar quarter, but instead is required to file one Form CT-941 for the entire calendar year. The due date of Form CT-941 for an agricultural employer granted annual filer status is January 31 of the following calendar year.

Every agricultural employer is required to file with DRS the state copy of federal Form(s) W-2, along with Form CT-W3, whether or not the employer is registered to withhold Connecticut income tax from wages of agricultural employees, and whether or not the employer has withheld any Connecticut income tax. On Form CT-W3, an agricultural employer reports Connecticut wages paid to agricultural employees during the entire calendar year. The due date of Form CT-W3 is the last day of February following the end of the calendar year if filed using paper forms or March 31 if filed electronically. An agricultural employer who is not registered to withhold Connecticut income tax should enter the words "Agricultural Employer" in the space reserved for the Connecticut tax registration number on Form CT-W3.

Seasonal Employers

An employer who regularly has no Connecticut income tax withholding liability for one or more calendar quarters each year because the employer pays no Connecticut wages during the same one or more calendar quarters may request permission to file Form CT-941 only for the one or more calendar quarters during which the employer pays Connecticut wages by submitting a written request to the address below and indicating the calendar quarters during which the employer pays Connecticut wages.

Department of Revenue Services
Registration Unit
PO Box 2937
Hartford CT 06104-2937

This request must be received on or before the last day of a calendar quarter to be effective for that calendar quarter. An employer granted seasonal filer status is not required to file Form CT-941 for the one or more calendar quarters during which the employer pays no Connecticut wages, but instead is required to file Form CT-941 only for the one or more calendar quarters during which the employer pays Connecticut wages.

Voluntary Registration to Withhold Tax

Any employer who is not required to register to withhold Connecticut income tax may register solely for the purpose of withholding Connecticut income tax if both the employer and the employee voluntarily agree to have Connecticut income tax withheld. Upon registration, the employer will be treated as an employer required to withhold Connecticut income tax while the agreement remains in effect.

Income Subject to Connecticut Income Tax Withholding

In general, Connecticut law follows the federal law in determining what income is subject to withholding. Employers should consult the IRS Circular E, Employer's Tax Guide, and Publication 15-A, Employer's Supplemental Tax Guide, to determine federal withholding rules for specific types of income.

Wages

In general, all amounts that are wages and subject to federal withholding are also wages for Connecticut income tax withholding purposes. These amounts include, but are not limited to, fringe benefits, supplemental compensation, golden parachutes, sick pay, moving expenses, and severance pay.

Resident Wages Subject to Connecticut Withholding

All wages of a Connecticut resident are subject to Connecticut income tax withholding even if the resident works outside of Connecticut. If an employer is required to withhold income tax for services performed in other states, their political subdivisions, or the District of Columbia from the resident's wages, the employer is required to withhold Connecticut income tax as follows:

1. For an employee who is a resident individual and works for an employer in one or more qualifying jurisdictions, but not in Connecticut, and the employer maintains an office or transacts business both in Connecticut and in the same qualifying jurisdiction(s) in which the employee works for the employer, the employer must first determine the Connecticut income tax that would otherwise be required to be deducted and withheld from the employee's total wages and prorate that amount between the qualifying jurisdictions the employee works for the employer. If the prorated tax amount for a qualifying jurisdiction exceeds the income tax required to be deducted and withheld from the wages for the qualifying jurisdiction, the employer would withhold the difference and pay over the difference to DRS as Connecticut income tax withholding.
2. For an employee who is a resident individual and works for an employer in one or more qualifying jurisdictions and in Connecticut, the employer must first determine the Connecticut income tax that would otherwise be required to be deducted and withheld from the employee's total wages and prorate that amount between the qualifying jurisdictions in which the employee works for the employer. If the prorated tax amount for a qualifying jurisdiction exceeds the income tax required to be deducted and withheld from the wages for the qualifying jurisdiction, the employer withholds the difference and pays over the difference to DRS. The employer also deducts and withholds from the employee's wages the prorated tax amount for Connecticut and pays over that amount to DRS. The prorated tax amount for Connecticut is calculated by subtracting the prorated tax amount for each qualifying jurisdiction in which the employee works for the employer from the Connecticut income tax that would otherwise be required to be deducted and withheld from the employee's total wages.

Example 1: A Connecticut resident is employed in State X by an employer maintaining an office or transacting business both in Connecticut and in State X. State X income tax payable on the employee's wages is $100. The Connecticut income tax that would otherwise be required to be withheld from the wages is $160. The amount of Connecticut income tax required to be withheld is $60.

Example 2: A Connecticut resident works in State Y for an employer maintaining an office or transacting business both in Connecticut and in State Y. The income tax payable to State Y on the employee's wages is $200. The Connecticut income tax that would otherwise be required to be withheld from the wages is $200. No Connecticut income tax is required to be withheld.

Example 3: A Connecticut resident works in State Z for an employer maintaining an office or transacting business both in Connecticut and in State Z. The income tax payable to State Z on the employee's wages is $300. The Connecticut income tax that would otherwise be required to be withheld from the wages is $250. No Connecticut income tax is required to be withheld.

Example 4: A resident individual is employed in New York and New Jersey by an employer maintaining an office or transacting business in Connecticut, New York, and New Jersey. Assume the Connecticut income tax that would be required to be deducted and withheld from the employee's total wages for work performed in New York and New Jersey is $500. Half of the employee's wages are for work performed in New York and the other half are for work performed in New Jersey. Therefore, the prorated tax amount for New York is $250 and the prorated tax amount for New Jersey is $250. Assuming the New York income tax that would be required to be deducted and withheld from the employee's New York wages is $300, no Connecticut income tax would be required to be deducted and withheld from the employee's New York wages because the New York income tax required to be deducted and withheld from the employee's wages exceeds the prorated tax amount for New York. Assuming the New Jersey income tax that would be required to be deducted and withheld from the employee's New Jersey wages is $210, the amount of Connecticut income tax that would be required to be deducted and withheld from the employee's New Jersey wages is $40. This is the amount by which the prorated tax amount for New Jersey ($250) exceeds the New Jersey income tax required to be deducted and withheld from the employee's wages. Therefore, the amount of Connecticut income tax that would be required to be deducted and withheld from the employee's total wages is $40.

Nonresident Wages Subject to Connecticut Withholding

Wages of a nonresident are subject to Connecticut income tax withholding if the wages are paid for services rendered in Connecticut. Wages of a nonresident are not subject to Connecticut income tax withholding if the wages are paid for services performed entirely outside of Connecticut.

Example 5: Working solely within Connecticut: A resident of State X works in Connecticut for an employer doing business in Connecticut and in State X. The employer is required to withhold Connecticut income tax because the services are performed in Connecticut. The employer should contact State X for withholding requirements in that state.

Example 6: Working solely outside Connecticut: A resident of State Y works in State Y for an employer whose main office, including the payroll department, is located in Connecticut. The employer is not required to withhold Connecticut income tax even though payment is made from a point in Connecticut since the employee is a nonresident and performs all his services outside Connecticut. The employer should contact State Y for withholding requirements in that state.

Example 7: Working partly within and partly outside Connecticut: A resident of State Z works partly in Connecticut and partly in State Z for an employer who is doing business in Connecticut and State Z. The employer is required to withhold Connecticut income tax on wages paid to the nonresident employee in the same proportion the employee's wages derived from or connected with sources within Connecticut relate to the employee's total wages.

See Determining How Much to Withhold From Nonresident Employees Who Work Partly Within and Partly Outside Connecticut on Page 14.

Payments Not Subject to Connecticut Income Tax Withholding

In general, income not subject to federal withholding is not subject to Connecticut income tax withholding.

Payments Not Subject to Federal Withholding

Other than the exceptions noted in Informational Publication 2009(9), Connecticut Tax Guide for Payers of Nonpayroll Amounts, Connecticut income tax withholding is not required for any compensation paid to an employee if the compensation is not subject to federal withholding. Employers should consult the IRS Circular E, Employer's Tax Guide, for federal withholding rules for specific types of income.

Self-Employed Individuals

The owner of a business that has no employees is not required to register for Connecticut income tax withholding. The owner of a business, other than the sole shareholder of an S corporation, is not an employee for federal or Connecticut withholding purposes.

Exemption from Connecticut income tax withholding does not exempt the income from Connecticut income tax. The recipient of taxable income who is not subject to Connecticut withholding is required to pay estimated taxes if the recipient's Connecticut taxable income meets the minimum filing requirements.

See Informational Publication 2008(20), Estimated Connecticut Income Taxes.

Example 8: Mary owns her own business and her business income is not subject to Connecticut income tax withholding. Generally, if Mary will owe $1,000 or more in Connecticut income tax for the current year, over and above any Connecticut income tax withheld for the current year, she must make estimated Connecticut income tax payments.

Interstate Commerce

Compensation paid by interstate rail carriers, interstate motor carriers, and interstate motor private carriers to a nonresident employee who performs regularly assigned duties in two or more states is not subject to Connecticut income tax withholding. The compensation is not income derived from Connecticut sources even though the employee performed services in Connecticut. However, this compensation is income derived from sources within the employee's state of residence.

Interstate Air Carriers

Compensation paid by an interstate air carrier to a nonresident employee who performs regularly assigned duties on an aircraft in two or more states is income derived from sources in both the employee's state of residence and the state in which the employee earns more than 50% of the compensation. An employee has earned more than 50% of the compensation in Connecticut if the scheduled flight time in Connecticut is more than 50% of the total scheduled flight time in the calendar year.

See Nonresident Wages Subject to Connecticut Withholding on Page 12.

Nonresident Seamen

A nonresident seaman's wages for employment on a ship which enters a Connecticut port for the purpose of foreign or interstate trade is not subject to Connecticut income tax withholding.

Wages Paid by the United States to Armed Forces Personnel

Payments made by the United States to nonresident military personnel stationed or performing services for the U.S. armed forces in Connecticut are not subject to Connecticut income tax withholding. In general, payments made by the United States to military personnel who are Connecticut residents or whose domicile was Connecticut when they entered the military, regardless of where they are stationed, are subject to Connecticut income tax withholding. Certain individuals, however, may be entitled to claim exemption from the tax.

See Informational Publication 2008(22), Connecticut Income Tax Information for Armed Forces Personnel and Veterans.

How to Withhold Connecticut Income Tax

Employers should use the current Connecticut Income Tax Withholding Tables and Calculation Rules to determine the amount to withhold. To determine how much Connecticut income tax to withhold from each employee's wages, employers should refer to the most recently completed Form CT-W4 on file for each employee.

Employers with nonresident employees who work partly within and partly outside Connecticut, see Page 14.

Employee's Withholding Certificate

Employers must obtain a completed copy of Form CT-W4 from each new employee when hired. The form is effective for the first payroll period ending, or the first payment of wages, made on or after the date the employer receives a completed Form CT-W4. Unless the employee claims exemption, Form CT-W4 is effective until the employee provides the employer with a new one.

A copy of Form CT-W4 is included on Page 27. Employers may photocopy as needed.

Employees Claiming Exemption

Employers are required to obtain a new Form CT-W4 on or before February 15 from each employee who claimed exemption from withholding in the prior year. The Form CT-W4 previously given to the employer expires on February 15. If the employee does not provide a new Form CT-W4 for the current year, the employer must begin withholding at a flat rate of 5%, without allowance for exemption, on February 16.

Reporting Certain Employees to DRS

Generally, employers should not send copies of Form CT-W4 to DRS. However, employers must send copies of Forms CT-W4 from employees claiming exemption from Connecticut withholding, if:

1. The employee is employed by the employer on the last day of the quarter; and
2. The employer reasonably expects:
 - a. The annual wages of an employee whose filing status is filing separately will exceed $36,000*;
 - b. The annual wages of an employee whose filing status is single will exceed $39,000*;

- c. The annual wages of an employee whose filing status is head of household will exceed $57,000*; or
- d. The annual wages of an employee whose filing status is filing jointly or qualifying widow(er) with dependent child will exceed $72,000*.

* This number is three times the maximum personal exemption amount available to an employee. An employer should multiply the maximum personal exemption amount for the taxable year by a factor of three to determine if the Form CT-W4 of an employee must be sent to DRS.

Reporting New or Rehired Employees to DOL

Employers with offices in Connecticut or transacting business in Connecticut are required to report the name, address, and Social Security Number (SSN) of new or rehired employees to DOL. Each new employee's Form CT-W4 must be sent to DOL no later than 20 days after the date of hire to assist in the enforcement of child support obligations. Employers should verify all employee and employer items have been completed legibly before submitting Form CT-W4 to DOL. DOL may use information reported on this form in a manner consistent with its governmental powers and duties.

See additional instructions for submitting copies of this form on Form CT-W4 on Page 28.

Determining How Much Connecticut Income Tax to Withhold From Employees

The amount to withhold from an employee's wages depends on:

1. Payroll period;
2. Gross taxable wages;
3. Withholding Code; and
4. Additions or reductions to withholding requested by the employee on Form CT-W4.

How to Use the Withholding Tables

Use these steps when calculating withholding from the tables on Pages 33 through 40:

1. Select the table which is the same as your payroll period (weekly, biweekly, monthly, or semimonthly).
2. Use the columns on the left side of the table. Find the line on which your employee's gross taxable wages are included. Gross taxable wages are wages subject to federal withholding.
3. Select the "Withholding Amount" column on the right side of the table which corresponds with the Withholding Code selected by your employee on Form CT-W4 (Status A, B, C, D, or F).
4. Add to the "Withholding Amount" the amount, if any, on Line 2 of Form CT-W4.

5. Subtract from the "Withholding Amount" the amount, if any, on Line 3 of Form CT-W4. The amount on Line 3 of Form CT-W4 cannot exceed the total withholding amount.

Employees Who Do Not Return a Completed Form CT-W4

Employers must withhold at a flat rate of 5%, without allowance for exemption, on the gross taxable wages of employees who do not return a completed Form CT-W4.

Withholding for Daily or Miscellaneous Amounts

For those employees who receive one time or miscellaneous payments, the employer must withhold at a flat rate of 5% without allowance for exemption.

See Supplemental Compensation on Page 15.

Determining How Much to Withhold From Nonresident Employees Who Work Partly Within and Partly Outside Connecticut

A nonresident employee who performs services partly within and partly outside Connecticut is subject to Connecticut income tax only on the portion of wages attributable to services performed within Connecticut.

For Connecticut income tax withholding purposes, however, an employer must withhold Connecticut income tax on all wages paid to the employee unless the employer can properly allocate the wages attributable to services performed in Connecticut by means of one of the following:

- The nonresident employee gives the employer a completed Form CT-W4NA, Employee's Withholding Certificate – Nonresident Apportionment, identifying the portion of wages subject to Connecticut income tax; or
- The employer maintains adequate current records to determine the amount of wages paid for services performed within Connecticut.

Employers who receive Form CT-W4NA or who maintain adequate current records from nonresident employees calculate the amount of Connecticut income tax to be withheld for services performed within Connecticut as follows:

1. Determine the total "Withholding Amount" on all wages paid to a nonresident employee.
2. If the employee has provided Form CT-W4NA, multiply the total "Withholding Amount" by the percentage from Form CT-W4NA that certifies the estimated portion of services performed in Connecticut during the calendar year.

Employers who know or have reason to know that the percentage of services estimated on Form CT-W4NA is no longer correct must make necessary adjustments during the calendar year. In making those adjustments, the employer must determine the percentage of wages paid for the performance of services within Connecticut by using the same percentage that the wages derived from or connected with Connecticut sources bears to the total wages.

Alternative to Using Form CT-W4NA

An employer who maintains adequate current records to accurately determine the amount of a nonresident employee's wages paid for services performed within Connecticut may withhold Connecticut income tax from the wages based on those records whether or not the employee files Form CT-W4NA. To calculate the amount to withhold, multiply the total "Withholding Amount" by a fraction. The numerator is the amount of wages paid during the year for services performed in Connecticut (as shown by those records) and the denominator is the total amount of wages paid during the year for services performed, wherever performed.

The following examples refer to the Withholding Tables, Effective January 1, 2009, on Pages 34 through 41.

Example 9: Form CT-W4NA: A nonresident employee performs services partly within and partly outside Connecticut. The employee's taxable wages are $700 per week. The employee's Form CT-W4 indicates Withholding Code "F" and Form CT-W4NA filed by the employee shows 60% as the estimated portion of services performed within Connecticut. Because 60% of the employee's work time was performed in Connecticut, the employer withholds 60% of the Connecticut income tax that would have been due if all wages were earned in Connecticut ($$26.47 \times .60 = \15.88 , the amount of Connecticut income tax to be withheld).

Example 10: Employer Maintains Records: A nonresident employee performs services partly within and partly outside Connecticut. The employee's taxable wages are $1,000 per week. The employee's Form CT-W4 indicates Withholding Code "A." The employee did not complete Form CT-W4NA, but the employer does maintain adequate current records showing that in week 1, the employee worked 2 out of 5 days (40%) in Connecticut. In week 2, the employee worked 100% of the time in Connecticut. If all work was performed in Connecticut, the employer would withhold $44.99 per week; therefore, for week 1 the employer withholds $17.99 ($$44.99 \times .40$) and for week 2 the employer withholds $44.99.

Example 11: No Method of Allocation: An employer has not received a Form CT-W4NA from a nonresident employee who performs services partly within and partly outside Connecticut and the employer does not keep adequate current records for the amount of wages paid to the nonresident for services performed within Connecticut. The employee's taxable wages are $2,300 biweekly and his Withholding Code shown on his Form CT-W4 is "B." The employer withholds $91.88 of Connecticut income tax from the nonresident's wages, the same amount that would be withheld if all services were performed in Connecticut.

A copy of Form CT-W4NA is available on Page 31.
Employers may photocopy as needed.

Supplemental Compensation

Withholding rules for supplemental compensation (such as bonuses, commissions, overtime pay, sales awards, etc.) depend on when the supplemental compensation is paid.

Supplemental Compensation Paid at the Same Time as Regular Wages

When supplemental compensation is paid at the same time as regular wages, the tax withheld should be determined as if the total of the supplemental and regular wages were a single payment for the regular payroll period.

Example 12: Mary worked five hours of overtime during the pay period. In her paycheck, Mary's employer includes her regular pay and her overtime pay. Her employer determines the amount to be withheld based upon the total of the regular pay plus the overtime.

Supplemental Compensation Paid at a Different Time Than Regular Wages

If supplemental compensation is paid at a different time than regular wages, the method of withholding depends on whether the employer withheld income tax from the employee's regular wages.

1. No withholding on regular wages

If the employer did not withhold income tax from the regular wages, the regular and supplemental wages should be added together and the tax computed on the whole amount.

2. Withholding on regular wages

If the employer did withhold income tax from the employee's regular wages, the employer must compute the tax on the combined regular and supplemental wages. The computed tax minus the tax withheld from regular wages is the tax to be withheld from supplemental wages.

Example 13: An employer pays her employees annual bonuses. The bonuses are not included in the employees' regular paychecks, but income tax is withheld from the regular pay. The employer must add the bonus to the gross wages for the last regular pay period, determine the withholding tax on the total of the bonus plus the gross wages, subtract the tax already withheld from the regular wages, and withhold the difference from the bonus check.

How to Report and Remit Taxes Withheld

Employers who are registered with DRS for Connecticut income tax withholding purposes will receive the Employer's Withholding Remittance Coupon Book unless they have been notified by DRS that they are required to pay over Connecticut income tax withholding by electronic funds transfer. Each of the forms included in the coupon book is a machine readable document which is personalized with the employer's name, address, Connecticut tax registration number, and federal employer identification number. Only the original coupon should be submitted. Forms, payments, or other documents are timely filed if received on or before the due date or if the date shown by the U.S. Postal Service cancellation mark is on or before the due date.

Employers

Except as otherwise instructed, send Form CT-WH, Connecticut Withholding Tax Payment Form, to DRS with each Connecticut withholding payment. Each employer is required to deduct and withhold Connecticut income tax from employee wages at the time wages are paid and is required to pay over the Connecticut income tax withholding to DRS on or before the due dates described below.

Each calendar year, DRS will classify an employer either as a weekly remitter, monthly remitter, or quarterly remitter. An employer's classification has nothing to do with how often the employer pays its employees or how often the employer is required to pay over Connecticut income tax withholding to DRS. The classification relates to how much time an employer has to pay over Connecticut income tax withholding to DRS after wages are paid to employees and Connecticut income tax is deducted and withheld from those wages. An employer's classification is based on the employer's reported liability for Connecticut income tax withholding during the 12-month look-back period. The 12-month look-back period for calendar year 2009 is the 12-month period that ended on June 30, 2008. Employers do not need to file Form CT-WH if no payment is due.

If the tax liability was deducted and withheld during one quarter and paid over in another quarter, the employer must enter the number for the quarter in which the tax liability was deducted and withheld. For example, if the tax liability was deducted and withheld in March and paid over in April, enter "1" on Line 1 of Form CT-WH.

DRS will notify most employers of their classification before mailing them their 2009 Employer's Withholding Remittance Coupon Book.

Weekly Remitter

A weekly remitter is an employer whose reported liability for Connecticut income tax withholding during the 12-month look-back period was more than $10,000. A weekly remitter is required to pay over Connecticut income tax withholding on or before the Wednesday following the weekly period during which the wages were paid. Weekly period is the seven-day period beginning on a Saturday and ending on the following Friday.

DRS may require weekly remitters to pay over Connecticut income tax withholding by electronic funds transfer instead of by mailing a check and to file electronically instead of by filing a paper Form CT WH and a paper Form

CT-941. However, no weekly remitter is required to pay over Connecticut income tax withholding by electronic funds transfer and to file electronically before being notified in writing by DRS.

Weekly Period Spanning Two Quarterly Periods

If a weekly remitter has two or more paydays during a weekly period, the weekly remitter is generally required to make only one payment for the weekly period to DRS and should enter the date of the last payday when making the payment. However, if the paydays fall in different quarterly periods, the weekly remitter must make separate payments with separate Forms CT-WH for the separate Connecticut income tax withholding liabilities. Any wages paid on December 30, 2009, or December 31, 2009, are wages paid during calendar year 2009 and must be included in the Summary of Connecticut Tax Liability for the Calendar Quarter on the back of Form CT-941 filed for the last quarter of the 2009 calendar year.

Schedule for Weekly Remitters

If the payday falls on a Saturday, Sunday, Monday, or Tuesday	Pay over Connecticut income tax withholding on or before the second Wednesday following the payday.
If the payday falls on a Wednesday, Thursday, or Friday	Pay over Connecticut income tax withholding on or before the Wednesday following the payday.

Monthly Remitter

A monthly remitter is an employer whose reported liability for Connecticut income tax withholding during the 12-month look-back period was more than $2,000 but not more than $10,000. A monthly remitter is required to pay over Connecticut income tax withholding with Form CT-WH on or before the fifteenth day of the month following the month during which the wages were paid.

Quarterly Remitter

A quarterly remitter is an employer whose reported liability for Connecticut income tax withholding during the 12-month look-back period was $2,000 or less. A quarterly remitter is required to pay over Connecticut income tax withholding with Form CT-941 on or before the last day of the month following the quarterly period during which the wages were paid. Quarterly period means a period of three calendar months that ends on the last day of March, June, September, or December.

For more information, see Special Notice 2004(9), 2004 Legislation Affecting Connecticut Income Tax Withholding by Employers on Wages Paid on or After January 1, 2005.

New Employer

Most new employers are classified by DRS as monthly remitters. An employer is a new employer for the calendar year during which the employer is first registered with DRS for Connecticut income tax withholding purposes. For the following calendar year, a new employer will either (1) retain its remitter classification if it is first registered on or after July 1 of the preceding calendar year, or (2) be classified either as a weekly remitter, monthly remitter, or quarterly remitter based on the employer's annualized reported liability for Connecticut income tax withholding during the 12-month look-back period.

Seasonal Employer

A seasonal employer will be classified either as a weekly remitter, monthly remitter, or quarterly remitter based on the employer's annualized reported liability for Connecticut income tax withholding during the 12-month look-back period. A seasonal employer (including an agricultural employer, if seasonal) should refer to Page 11 for more information on how to be classified by DRS as a seasonal employer.

Household Employer

If a household employer chooses to register for Connecticut income tax withholding purposes, the employer may request to be classified by DRS as an annual remitter. A household employer is not required to register for Connecticut income tax withholding purposes, but may choose to do so if a household employee wishes to have Connecticut income tax withheld from his or her wages. An annual remitter is required to pay over Connecticut income tax withholding with Form CT-941 (DRS/P) on or before the fifteenth day of the April following the calendar year during which the wages were paid. A household employer should see Page 8 of this publication for detailed information on how to request to be classified by DRS as an annual remitter. Once classified as an annual remitter by DRS, a household employer will be mailed appropriate forms by DRS.

Every household employer, whether or not registered with DRS for Connecticut income tax withholding purposes and whether or not having withheld Connecticut income tax from the wages of household employees, is required to file Form CT-W3. Form CT-W3 is due on or before the last day of the February following the calendar year during which Connecticut wages were paid to household employees. The employer must attach to Form CT-W3 every state copy of federal Form W-2 reporting Connecticut wages paid during the calendar year.

Quarterly Reconciliation

All employers, except seasonal, annual, agricultural, and household employer filers, who are registered for Connecticut income tax withholding must file Form CT-941 even if no tax is due or has been withheld for a quarter.

Due dates are:

First QuarterApril 30

Second QuarterJuly 31

Third QuarterOctober 31

Fourth QuarterJanuary 31

This requirement applies to all employers even if they are not required to file a quarterly reconciliation for federal withholding purposes.

Form CT-941 is located in the back of the Employer's Withholding Remittance Coupon Book.

An employer who makes timely withholding payments and owes no additional withholding for the quarter has ten days after the normal due date to file Form CT-941.

Agricultural Employers

An agricultural employer who files federal Form 943 and employs farm workers only may obtain permission from DRS to file one Form CT-941, due January 31, reporting annual wages and Connecticut income tax withholding for farm workers.

For information on how to request annual filer status, see Agricultural Employers on Page 10.

Seasonal Employers

A seasonal employer must file Form CT-941 for any quarter the employer is listed as active.

For information on requesting seasonal filer status, see Seasonal Employers on Page 11.

If permission to become a seasonal filer is not granted, the employer must continue to file Form CT-941 each quarter (even if no tax is withheld) as long as the employer remains registered for Connecticut income tax withholding.

Household Employers

A household employer who has voluntarily registered with DRS is required to file one Form CT-941 on or before April 15 of the following calendar year and pay over all Connecticut income tax withholding for the previous calendar year.

Employers Who Report No Withholding for All Four Calendar Quarters

An employer who obtains permission from DRS may file one Form CT-941, due January 31, reporting Connecticut wages paid during the entire calendar year and no Connecticut income tax withholding.

For information on requesting annual filer status, see Requesting Annual Filer Status on Page 8.

Amended Reconciliation of Withholding

If an error was made on a previously-filed Form CT-941, an amended return must be filed. An employer must use Form CT-941X, Amended Connecticut Reconciliation of Withholding, to amend Form CT-941.

Wage and Tax Statement

On or before January 31 of the following calendar year, an employer must furnish a federal Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, showing the correct amount of Connecticut wages paid by the employer during the calendar year and the correct amount of Connecticut income tax withheld from wages during the calendar year to the employee.

The employer must complete the state information in boxes 15, 16, and 17 of federal Form W-2 for the calendar year. In box 15, the employer enters "CT" (the two-letter state code for Connecticut) and the employer's Connecticut tax registration number. In box 16, the employer must enter the total wages paid during the calendar year to an employee who is a Connecticut resident or, if an employee is a nonresident, the wages paid during the calendar year which are attributable to services performed in Connecticut by the employee. In box 17, the employer must enter the total Connecticut income tax withheld from wages of the employee during the calendar year.

Annual Reconciliation

If filing electronically, Form CT-W3 (DRS) is due the last day of March, 2010, and will be completed as part of the electronic filing process when you upload Copy 1 of federal Forms W-2. Do not mail in Form CT-W3 (DRS) if you are filing electronically. If filing by paper, Form CT-W3 (DRS) is due the last day of February, 2010. No payment is to be made with this return. If the due date falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the next business day is the due date. Employers must file every Copy 1 of federal Form W-2 with Form CT-W3 (DRS) even if no Connecticut income tax was withheld.

Electronic Filing of Form W-2

If you file 25 or more Forms W-2 reporting Connecticut wages paid, you must file Form CT-W3 and every Copy 1 of federal Form W-2 electronically. You may request a waiver of the electronic filing requirements by completing Form CT-8508 no later than January 15. If you file 24 or fewer Forms W-2 reporting Connecticut wages paid, you may file using paper forms and do not need to file a waiver request. Electronic reporting specifications for Form W-2 are contained in Informational Publication 2008(17.1), Form W-2 Electronic Filing Requirements for Tax Year 2008. See also TSC Filing Options for Forms W-2 and CT-W3 on Page 7 of this publication.

Correction/Reorder Form

Form CTC, Withholding Correction/Reorder Form, allows employers to make corrections to taxpayer identification information preprinted in the coupon book or to order an additional coupon book for the current calendar year. An employer should allow a minimum of four weeks when ordering additional coupon books.

Payment by Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT)

Employers whose Connecticut withholding tax liability for the 12-month period ending the preceding June 30 exceeded $10,000 and who are notified by DRS to pay Connecticut withholding tax by EFT must pay that tax by EFT.

Each year DRS reviews each employer's Connecticut withholding tax liability. DRS notifies an employer if the requirement to pay Connecticut withholding tax by EFT no longer applies. Employers must continue to pay by EFT until DRS notifies them that they are no longer required to do so.

See Informational Publication 2007(8), Paying Connecticut Taxes by Electronic Funds Transfer.

For more information on payment by EFT, call 860-297-4973.

Liability for Taxes Withheld

An employer is liable for the amount of the Connecticut income tax required to be withheld. For purposes of assessment and collection, amounts required to be withheld and paid over to DRS (and any penalties and interest) are the liability of the employer under the law. The employer remains liable for the tax even if a third party is withholding on the employer's behalf.

Penalties and Interest

Employers who fail to comply with the requirements to withhold Connecticut income tax are subject to penalties, including:

Late Payment Penalty

The penalty for late payment or underpayment of tax due is 10% of the amount due on all returns including Forms CT-WH and CT-8109, Connecticut Withholding Tax Payment Form for Nonpayroll Amounts.

Late Filing Penalty

In the event no tax is due, the Commissioner of Revenue Services may impose a $50 penalty for failure to file any return or report that is required by law to be filed. This late filing penalty does not apply to Forms CT-WH and CT-8109.

Interest

If you are filing a late or amended return, interest is computed on the underpayment at the rate of 1% per month or fraction of a month from the due date until the date of payment.

Required Informational Returns

A penalty of $5 per statement (up to a total of $2,000 per calendar year) is imposed for failure to provide federal Form W-2 to each employee and a copy to DRS unless due to reasonable cause.

Willful Evasion

A penalty equal to the total amount of the tax evaded, not collected, or not paid over is imposed on any responsible person for the willful failure of an employer to collect or truthfully account for income tax or for willfully attempting to evade the tax.

Fraud

In addition to any other penalty that may be imposed, a civil penalty of not more than $1,000 is imposed where, with fraudulent intent, an employer fails to pay, deduct, or withhold and pay tax or to make or sign any return or supply information.

Criminal Penalties

Any person who willfully fails to pay tax, file a return, keep records, or supply information is guilty of a misdemeanor. A person who willfully files with DRS any document known to be fraudulent or false in any material manner is guilty of a felony.

How to Advise Employees to Have Enough Tax Withheld

An employer should remind employees to check the amount of Connecticut income tax withheld. An employee who owes $1,000 or more in Connecticut income tax over and above what has been withheld may be required to make estimated income tax payments and may be liable for an addition to tax if those payments are not made. Employees should also be advised to check Connecticut withholding by using Informational Publication 2009(7), *Is My Connecticut Withholding Correct?

Two-earner couples may also refer to the Supplemental Table of Form CT-W4 on Pages 29 and 30.

What Records to Keep

An employer must maintain a current accurate record of all persons from whom tax is withheld. DRS has the authority to inspect an employer's records at any time. Records should contain all of the following applicable information:

- Amounts and dates of all payments subject to withholding tax;
- Names, addresses, occupations, and Social Security Numbers of persons receiving payments;
- Periods of employment, including periods during which compensation is paid while an employee is absent due to sickness or injury;

- Amounts paid by pay period;
- Copies of payment coupons, quarterly and annual returns, and statements filed with DRS and IRS;
- Federal Form W-4, Federal Employee Withholding Allowance Certificate;
- Form CT-W4, Employee's Withholding Certificate; and
- Form CT-W4NA, Employee's Withholding Certificate – Nonresident Apportionment.

An employer should keep records for at least four years after the date the tax becomes due or the date the tax is paid, whichever is later. However, a current, accurate copy of Form CT-W4 or Form CT-W4NA must be on file at all times.

How to Cancel Registration for Withholding Connecticut Income Tax

If an employer goes out of business or permanently stops paying wages, the employer should notify DRS immediately by filing Form CT-941 for the current quarter. The employer must check the box indicating the employer no longer has employees and must enter the last payroll date on the line provided on Form CT-941. Employers may send written notification to:

Department of Revenue Services
Registration Unit
PO Box 2937
Hartford CT 06104-2937

Employers must comply with all filing requirements for the calendar year as explained in How to Report and Remit Taxes Withheld on Page 15.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Information for Married Individuals or Civil Union Partners Who Are Both Employed and File a Joint Connecticut Income Tax Return

Purpose: This Announcement alerts married individuals and parties to a civil union who are both employed and file a joint Connecticut income tax return that it may be necessary to increase or decrease the amount of Connecticut income tax withheld from one spouse's wage income to avoid underwithholding or overwithholding that may result when both incomes are combined.

Any reference in this publication to a spouse or married individual also refers to a party to a civil union recognized under Connecticut law. For more information on civil unions recognized under Connecticut law, visit the Attorney General's website at www.ct.gov/ag for Attorney General Opinion 2005-024.

When to Use the Supplemental Table to Adjust Your Withholding: If you and your spouse are both employed, intend to file a joint Connecticut income tax return, and select Withholding Code "A" on Form CT-W4, Employee's Withholding Certificate, the amount of Connecticut income tax withheld from one spouse's wages may need to be adjusted. Although the Connecticut withholding tables provide the accurate amount of Connecticut withholding for each spouse's own wage income, when a joint Connecticut income tax return is filed the application of the personal exemption and credit is based upon the combined income of both spouses. Therefore, the amount of combined withholding as determined by the tables may not be enough to cover the total Connecticut income tax liability. If you do not have enough Connecticut income tax withheld throughout the year, you may be required to make estimated Connecticut income tax payments and may be subject to interest if insufficient estimated tax payments are made.

To minimize this problem, use the Supplemental Table for Married Couples Filing Jointly to help you adjust your withholding. The table is included on Pages 3 and 4 of Form CT-W4, which is available from your employer or on the DRS website at www.ct.gov/DRS. If you need to adjust your withholding, complete a new Form CT-W4 and give it to your employer as soon as possible.

Other Method to Help You Adjust Your Connecticut Withholding: The supplemental table is a quick and easy tool to help you adjust your Connecticut withholding, but the results may not match your required withholding exactly. For example, if you or your spouse, or both, have non-wage income (such as income from a sole proprietorship, partnership, trust or estate, S corporation, interest, dividends, capital gains, pension, annuity, or gambling winnings), you should take this other income into account when adjusting your withholding. For a precise method of determining your withholding, see Informational Publication 2009(7), *Is My Connecticut Withholding Correct?

Effect on Other Documents: Announcement 2008(1), Information for Married Individuals or Civil Union Partners Who Are Both Employed and File a Joint Connecticut Income Tax Return, is modified and superseded and may not be relied upon after the date of this Announcement.

Effect of This Document: Announcements alert taxpayers to new developments (other than newly enacted or amended Connecticut or federal laws or newly released judicial decisions), including new administrative positions, policies, or practices.

For Further Information: Call DRS during business hours, Monday through Friday:

- 1-800-382-9463 (Connecticut calls outside the Greater Hartford calling area); or

General Instructions

Form CT-W4, Employees Withholding Certificate, provides your employer with the necessary information to withhold the correct amount of Connecticut income tax from your wages to ensure that you will not be underwithheld or overwithheld. In order for your employer to withhold Connecticut income tax from your wages, you must complete Form CT-W4, and provide it to your employer(s). You are expected to pay Connecticut income tax as income is earned or received during the year. You should complete a new Form CT-W4 at least once a year or if your tax situation changes.

Employee Instructions

Gross Income: For Form CT-W4 purposes, gross income means all income from all sources, whether received in the form of money, goods, property, or services, not exempt from federal income tax, and includes any additions to income from Schedule 1 of Form CT-1040, *Connecticut Resident Income Tax Return or Form CT-1040NR/PY, *Connecticut Nonresident and Part-Year Resident Return.

Filing Status: Generally, the filing status you expect to report on your Connecticut income tax return is the same as the filing status you expect to report on your federal income tax return. However, special rules apply to married individuals who file a joint federal return, but have a different residency status. Nonresidents and part-year residents should see the instructions to Form CT-1040NR/PY.

If you are a party to a civil union recognized under Connecticut law or a spouse in a marriage recognized under Kerrigan v. Commissioner of Public Health, 289 Conn. 135 (2008)(Kerrigan), you must recalculate your federal adjusted gross income as if your filing status for federal income tax purposes were married filing jointly or married filing separately. Unless otherwise noted, any reference in these instructions to a spouse also refers to a party to a civil union.

General Instructions: Complete the certificate on Page 1, Lines 1 through 11, sign it, and return it to your employer. Keep a copy for your records.

Check Your Withholding: You could be underwithheld if any of the following apply:

- You have more than one job;
- You qualify under Certain Married or Civil Union Individuals and do not use the Supplemental Table on Page 3 and Page 4; or
- You have substantial nonwage income.

If during the taxable year your circumstances change, such as, you receive a bonus or your filing status changes, you must furnish your employer with a new Form CT-W4 within ten days of the change to avoid underwithholding. If you could be underwithheld, you should consider adjusting your withholding or making estimated payments on Form CT-1040ES, *Estimated Connecticut Income Tax Payment Coupon for Individuals. You may also wish to select Withholding Code "D" to elect the highest level of withholding. If you owe $1,000 or more in Connecticut income tax over and above what has been withheld from your income for the prior taxable year, you may be subject to interest on the underpayment at the rate of 1% per month or fraction of a month. To help you determine if you have enough withholding, see Informational Publication 2009(7), *Is My Connecticut Withholding Correct?

Nonresident Employees Working Partly Within and Partly Outside of Connecticut

If you work partly within and partly outside of Connecticut for the same employer, you should also complete Form CT-W4NA, *Employee's Withholding or Exemption Certificate - Nonresident Apportionment, and provide it to your employer. The information on Form CT-W4NA together with the information on Form CT-W4 will help your employer determine how much to withhold from your wages for services performed within Connecticut. To obtain Form CT-W4NA visit the Department of Revenue Services (DRS) website at www.ct.gov/DRS or request the form from your employer. Any nonresident who expects to have no Connecticut income tax liability should choose Withholding Code "E."

Certain Married or Civil Union Individuals

If you are a married or civil union individual filing jointly and you and your spouse both select Withholding Code "A," you may have too much or too little Connecticut income tax withheld from your pay. This is because the phaseout of the personal exemption and credit is based on your combined incomes. The withholding tables cannot reflect your exact withholding requirement without considering the income of your spouse. To minimize this problem, use the Supplemental Table on Page 3 and Page 4 to adjust your withholding. You are not required to use this table. Do not use the supplemental table to adjust your withholding if you use the worksheet in IP 2009(7).

Armed Forces Personnel and Veterans

If you are a Connecticut resident, your Armed Forces pay is subject to Connecticut income tax withholding unless you qualify as a nonresident for Connecticut income tax purposes. See Informational Publication 2008(22), *Connecticut Income Tax Information for Armed Forces Personnel and Veterans. If you do not meet the criteria, complete Form CT-W4 following the instructions on Page 1. If you meet the nonresident criteria, you may request that no Connecticut income tax be withheld from your Armed Forces pay by entering Withholding Code "E" on Form CT-W4, Line 1 and filing the form with your Armed Forces finance officer.

Employer Instructions

For any employee who does not complete Form CT-W4, you are required to withhold at the highest rate.

You are required to keep a Form CT-W4 in your files for each employee. See Informational Publication 2009(1), *Connecticut Circular CT, Employer's Tax Guide, for complete instructions.

You must also file copies of Form CT-W4 with DRS and the Department of Labor (DOL) for certain employees as listed below:

Report Certain Employees Claiming Exemption From Withholding to DRS

Employers are required to file copies of Form CT-W4 with DRS for certain employees claiming "E" (no withholding is necessary). See IP 2009(1). Mail copies of Forms CT-W4 meeting the conditions listed in Connecticut Circular CT, Employer's Tax Guide with Form CT-941, *Connecticut Quarterly Reconciliation of Withholding, to DRS.

Report New and Rehired Employees to DOL

New employees are defined as workers not previously employed by your business, as well as workers who are hired after having been separated from your business for a period of more than six months.

Conn. Gen. Stat. §31-254(b) requires employers with offices in Connecticut or transacting business in Connecticut to report names, addresses, and Social Security Numbers of new employees to DOL within 20 days from the date of hire to assist in the enforcement of child support obligations. Mail copies of Form CT-W4 for those employees only to DOL at the address listed below or FAX to the number listed below. DOL may use information reported on this form in a manner consistent with its governmental powers and duties. For more information on DOL requirements or for alternative reporting options visit the DOL website at www.ctdol.state.ct.us or call DOL at 860-263-6310.

For a new or rehired employee send Form CT-W4 to:

- CT Department of Labor, Office of Research, Form CT-W4
200 Folly Brook Boulevard, Wethersfield CT 06109; or
- Fax: 1-800-816-1108

Visit www.ctnewhires.com to report employment or reemployment.

For Further Information: Call DRS during business hours, Monday through Friday:

- 1-800-382-9463 (Connecticut calls outside the Greater Hartford calling area only); or
- 860-297-5962 (from anywhere).

Select Option 6 to speak with a representative.

TTY, TDD, and Text Telephone users only may transmit inquiries 24 hours a day by calling 860-297-4911.

Forms and Publications: Forms and publications are available anytime by visiting the DRS website at www.ct.gov/DRS to download and print Connecticut tax forms and publications.

Supplemental Table for Qualifying Widow(er) With Dependent Child and Couples Filing Jointly - Effective January 1, 2009

For married or civil union couples who both select Withholding Code "A" on Form CT-W4 (combined income is $100,500 or less).

Instructions

- Reading across the top of the table select the approximate annual wage income of one spouse. Reading down the left column select the approximate annual wage income of the other spouse. See Page 4 for the continuation of this table.
- At the intersection of the two numbers is an adjustment amount. This is a yearly adjustment amount.
- To calculate the adjustment for each pay period, complete the following worksheet.

Pay Period Table
If you are paid:	Pay periods in a year:
Weekly	52
Biweekly	26
Semi-monthly	24
Monthly	12
- If the adjustment is positive, enter the adjustment amount from Line 3C, on Form CT-W4, Line 2 of one spouse. If the adjustment is negative, enter the adjustment amount in brackets from Line 3C, on Form CT-W4, Line 3 of one spouse.

Employee's Withholding Certificate - Nonresident Apportionment

Purpose: Complete Form CT-W4NA if you are a nonresident who performs services partly within and partly outside of Connecticut for the same employer. Form CT-W4NA, in addition to Form CT-W4, Employee's Withholding Certificate, will assist your employer in withholding the correct amount of Connecticut income tax from your wages for services performed in Connecticut.

Determine Your Residency Status: See the instructions for Form CT-1040, Connecticut Resident Income Tax Return, Form CT-1040EZ, Connecticut Resident EZ Income Tax Return, or Form CT-1040NR/PY, Connecticut Nonresident or Part-Year Resident Income Tax Return.

How Your Employer Will Calculate Your Withholding: If you are a nonresident, your employer is required to withhold Connecticut income tax on all wages paid to you unless:

1. You have filed Form CT-W4NA with your employer; or
2. Your employer maintains adequate current records to accurately determine the amount of wages paid to you for the services performed within Connecticut.

If you have filed Form CT-W4NA, your employer will withhold Connecticut income tax from your wages based on the percentage of your services you estimate you will perform in Connecticut during the calendar year. Your employer will make necessary adjustments during the calendar year if your employer knows or has reason to know that the percentage of services you estimated on Form CT-W4NA is no longer correct. In making the adjustments, your employer will determine the percentage of wages paid to you for the performance of services within Connecticut by using the same percentage your wages derived from or connected with Connecticut sources bears to your total wages.

Your employer may determine the percentage of wages paid to you for services performed within Connecticut based on your Form CT-W4NA on file from the preceding calendar year. If reasonable, your employer will make any necessary adjustments during the calendar year if your employer knows or has reason to know that the percentage shown on Form CT-W4NA is no longer correct.

When to File Form CT-W4NA: You must complete Form CT-W4NA if any of the following is true for the calendar year:

- You are a nonresident who performs services partly within and partly outside of Connecticut for the same employer; or
- The percentage of services you perform within Connecticut has changed from the percentage you indicated on the most recent Form CT-W4NA on file with your employer; or
- Your residency status has changed from resident to nonresident.

General Instructions: Before you complete Form CT-W4NA, review the information you have provided on Form CT-W4 and make any necessary changes. If you have not completed Form CT-W4, you must complete and file it with your employer before you complete Form CT-W4NA.

Complete the certificate below, sign it, and return it to your employer.

For More Information: Call the Department of Revenue Services (DRS) during business hours, Monday through Friday:

- 1-800-382-9463 (Connecticut calls from outside the Greater Hartford calling area only); or
- 860-297-5962 (from anywhere).

TTY, TDD, and Text Telephone users only may transmit inquiries anytime by calling 860-297-4911.

Forms and Publications: Forms and publications are available anytime by:

- Internet: Visit the DRS website at www.ct.gov/DRS to preview and download forms and publications; or
- Telephone: Call 1-800-382-9463 (Connecticut calls from outside the Greater Hartford calling area only) and select Option 2 from a touch-tone phone, or 860-297-4753 (from anywhere).

Employer: You must withhold the applicable amount of Connecticut income tax from wages paid to employees who file this certificate. You must make necessary adjustments during the calendar year if you know or have reason to know the percentage of services your nonresident employee estimated on Form CT-W4NA is no longer correct. In making those adjustments, you must determine the percentage of wages paid to the employee for the performance of services within Connecticut by using the same percentage the employee's wages derived from or connected with Connecticut sources bears to the employee's total wages. If you maintain adequate current records to accurately determine the amount of the nonresident employee's wages paid to the employee for services performed within Connecticut, you may withhold Connecticut income tax from your employee's wages based on those records, whether or not your employee files Form CT-W4NA. For instructions, refer to Informational Publication 2009(1), Connecticut Circular CT. Keep this certificate with your records.

Employers: Use either the withholding calculation rules below or the withholding tables on Pages 34 through 41 to determine the amount of tax to be withheld from the wages of employees. There is no percentage method available to determine Connecticut withholding.

Withholding Calculation Rules Effective January 1, 2009

Use the steps below to determine the amount of Connecticut income tax to be withheld from an employee's wages.

| Step <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Determine the employee's wages per pay period. 2. Determine the number of pay periods in a year (for example: 52, 26, 24, 12). 3. Determine the annualized salary. Multiply Step 1 by Step 2. 4. Determine the employee's withholding code (A, B, C, D, or F from Line 1 of Form CT-W4). 5. Using the annualized salary (Step 3) and the withholding code (Step 4), determine the exemption amount from Table A - Exemptions on Page 33.

The personal exemption amount is reduced in increments of $1,000. For example, an employee with withholding code "F" and an annualized salary of $27,000 receives an exemption of $13,500. 6. Determine the annualized taxable income. Subtract Step 5 from Step 3.

If the annualized taxable income is equal to or less than zero, the initial withholding amount should equal zero. Proceed to Step 11. 7. Determine the initial withholding amount from the table below. | Step <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 8. Using the annualized salary (Step 3) and withholding code (Step 4), determine the decimal amount from Table B - Personal Tax Credits on Page 33. 9. Multiply the initial withholding amount (Step 7) by 1.00 minus the decimal amount (for example, 1.00 - .15 = .85). 10. Determine the withholding amount per pay period. Divide Step 9 by Step 2. 11. Determine the additional withholding amount per pay period, if any, from Line 2 of Form CT-W4. 12. Determine the reduced withholding amount per pay period, if any, from Line 3 of Form CT-W4. 13. Determine the total withholding amount per pay period. Add Step 10 and Step 11 or subtract Step 12 from Step 10. For withholding rules for supplemental compensation (such as bonuses, commissions, overtime pay, sales awards, etc.), refer to Supplemental Compensation on Page 15. For withholding rules on onetime or miscellaneous payments, refer to Withholding for Daily or Miscellaneous Amounts on Page 14. |

Withholding Code: A, D, or F	Withholding Code: B	Withholding Code: C
If the amount from Step 6 is less than or equal to $10,000: Multiply the amount from Step 6 by .03. If the amount from Step 6 is more than $10,000: Multiply the excess over $10,000 by .05 and add $300.	If the amount from Step 6 is less than or equal to $16,000: Multiply the amount from Step 6 by .03. If the amount from Step 6 is more than $16,000: Multiply the excess over $16,000 by .05 and add $480.	If the amount from Step 6 is less than or equal to $20,000: Multiply the amount from Step 6 by .03. If the amount from Step 6 is more than $20,000: Multiply the excess over $20,000 by .05 and add $600.
Example: The amount from Step 6 is $10,000 and the withholding code is "F." The initial withholding amount equals $300 ($10,000 X .03 = $300). Example: The amount from Step 6 is $15,710 and the withholding code is "F." The initial withholding amount equals $585.50 ($15,710 - $10,000 = $5,710; $5,710 X .05 = $285.50; $285.50 + $300 = $585.50).

Use these tables in completing the withholding calculation.

For New or Rehired Employees	Complete Form CT-W4 for each employee. Report new or rehired employees to the Department of Labor by Internet, fax, or mail. See Page 13 for more information.	Complete federal Form W-4 for each employee.
Withholding Payments	File electronically through the Taxpayer Service Center (TSC) or mail payment with Form CT-WH on the due date that the withholding tax payment is required to be made. Do not use Form CT-WH when no payment is due. No coupon is due.	Payments are deposited as required by employer's remitter classification for federal withholding tax purposes.
Quarterly Reconciliation	File Form CT-941 for each quarter during the calendar year. Form CT-941 is located in the back section of the Employer's Withholding Remittance Coupon Book .	File federal Form 941 or federal Form 944.
Annual Reconciliation	File Form CT-W3 with every state copy of federal Form W-2 reporting Connecticut wages paid. For taxpayers who file 24 or fewer W-2 forms, although not required, are encouraged to file electronically. In case you choose not to file electronically, Form CT-W3 is located in the back section of the Employer's Withholding Remittance Coupon Book . Taxpayers who file 25 or more W-2 forms must file these forms electronically with DRS. See Page 7.	File federal Form W-3 with federal Forms W-2.
