

In celebration of St. Agnes Home's
"Raising the Future!" Centennial Celebration

You are invited to an afternoon discussion with

Victoria Rowell

New York Times bestselling author of the Women Who Raised Me, award winning and famed actress and lecturer

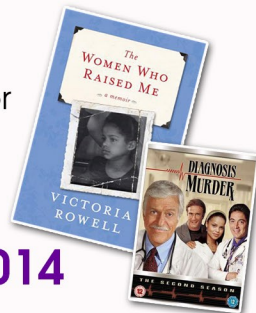

Friday, October 17, 2014

2:00 p.m. – 3:30 p.m.

@the

Conference of Churches @ the 224
224 Farmington Avenue,
Hartford, Connecticut 06105

Victoria Rowell is the national spokesperson for Casey Family Services - an arm of the Annie E. Casey Foundation. She will share some of her experiences in foster care, coupled with a conversation about support for youth and adolescents in care. A special emphasis will be on parenting youth aging out of care, and the need for permanency and proper planning within the child welfare and social service system.

Lorna Little, LCSW will moderate the conversation with Reverend Dr. Shelley Best

RSVP in the affirmative no later than: Tuesday, October 14, 2014, 5 p.m.

MayraN@StAgnesHome.org

Questions and/or RSVP, please call (860) 521-7516 and ask for Mayra.

100 years
1914-2014

"...Our mission is to provide residential care and supportive services for pregnant and parenting adolescent mothers and their infants."

www.StAgnesHome.org