Executive Summary

- On June 1, 2008, the total prison population was 19,532 offenders, a decrease of 1.8% from February 2008 (19,894).
- Community returns to DOC custody increased again in May (259). Parole violation re-admissions (99) have decreased from April 2008 to May 2008 by 7.9%. transitional supervision (108) and halfway house (51) re-admissions have increased by 4.3% and 3.7%, respectively.
- The total violation of probation offenders for May 2008 (105) is the second highest number for this 12-month period.
- End of sentence (EOS) releases for May 2008 (1,097) is 9% higher than the 12-month average and the second highest number in the 12-month period.
- 165 offenders were released to parole in May 2008, which is 8% below the average for the 12-month period. This is the first decrease in parole releases since October 2007 (54).
- Compared to the 12-month average, the number of offenders released on transitional supervision increased by 43% in May 2008 (376). In May, releases to halfway houses reached an all time high of 218 offenders, a 36% increase over the 12-month period.
- The parole granting rates for May are: 72% for full panel hearings; 79% for administrative reviews; and 32% for transfer parole reviews.
- Total probation referrals increased from 1,744 to 2,036; referrals to outpatient services (780) was 8.1% higher and referrals to community services (1,212) was 24.9% higher, while referrals to inpatient/ residential treatment programs (44) was 17% lower than last month.
- The six-month forecast projects that the prison population will decrease by approximately 3.9% from June to December 2008, and that the December 2008 prison population will be 18,762 offenders.

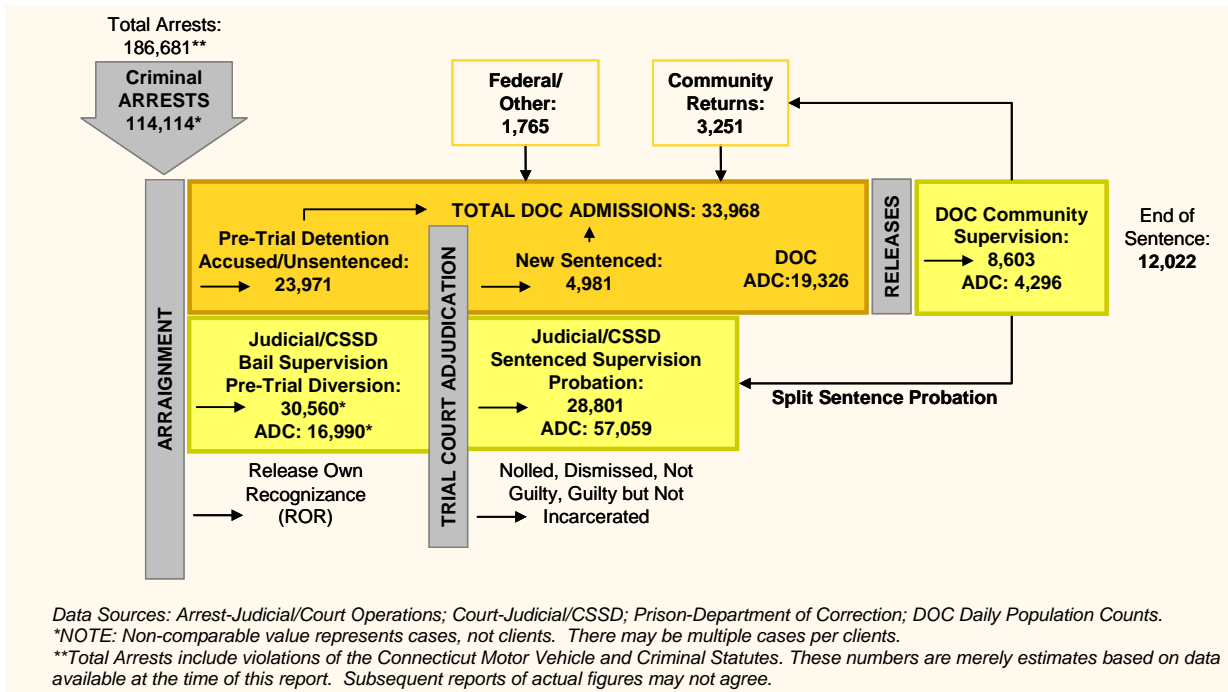

This projection is based on the following facts: (1) the total DOC supervised population has remained stable (2) the unsentenced/accused population has declined, and (3) PA 08-1 has provided funding for additional re-entry/diversionary beds. This projection is also based on: (1) the expectation that transitional supervision placements will increase and (2) that parole supervision placements should return to pre-July 2007 levels.

Historical perspectives, supportive data and additional analysis pertaining to these statutorily required correctional population indicators will be available at www.ct.gov/opm/criminaljustice/research.

CHART 6A – Connecticut Prison Population
January 1988 to June 2008

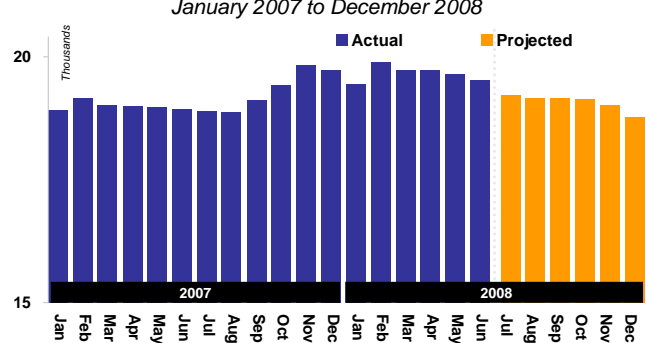

Connecticut Prison Population Forecast*

This projection is based on the following facts: (1) the total DOC supervised population has remained stable (2) the unsentenced/accused population has declined, and (3) PA 08-1 has provided funding for additional re-entry/diversionary beds. This projection is also based on: (1) the expectation that transitional supervision placements will increase and (2) that parole supervision placements should return to pre-July 2007 levels. (See CHART 6B)

The six month forecast projects that:

- The prison population will decrease by approximately 3.9% from June 2008 to December 2008
- The December 2008 prison population will be approximately 18,762 offenders

CHART 6B – Actual and Projected Monthly DOC Facility Population
January 2007 to December 2008

* Factors Affecting the Correctional Population Forecast

- Effective July 1, 2008, pursuant to P.A. 08-1, the Administrative Review process for granting parole will no longer be available to the Board of Pardons and Parole (BOPP); this may cause a decline in the number of persons released to discretionary parole after July 2008.
- The request and receipt of "all pertinent information" necessary to complete an offenders file prior to the review process by the BOPP, per P.A. 08-1, continues to be expedited with priority attention from both the Courts Support Services and Court Operations of the Judicial Branch; access to, and the confidentiality of, Juvenile and Youthful Offender records remains a critical issue; BOPP hearing scheduling remains problematic based upon the timing of available information and the current caseload backlog.
- The change in the composition of the BOPP, per P.A. 08-1, with 5 full-time and 7 part-time members, is in the process of being fully instituted; training and scheduling issues with regard to the new Board structure, as mandated by P.A. 08-1, may limit the number of persons released to discretionary parole in the short term.

Judicial Branch’s Court Support Services Division

The Court Support Services Division (CSSD) was established within Connecticut’s Judicial Branch, in February 1999. It was formed to respond to the changing needs of judges, attorneys, litigants, defendants, and communities, while providing on-going public safety. William H. Carbone is the Executive Director.

The CSSD combines the resources and expertise of the former: Office of the Bail Commissioner, Family Services Division, Juvenile Detention Services, Office of Juvenile Probation, Office of Adult Probation, and the Office of Alternative Sanctions. The merger created a single entity with staff representation and services in each Judicial District. Judges now have all available pre-trial services, family services, offender sentencing and supervision options for adults and juveniles, as well as juvenile detention services, coordinated through the single CSSD division and managed from a central office.

The main court support functions for adults and juveniles includes: Intake/Assessment/Referral (IAR) - a single, comprehensive pre-trial evaluation and referral process; Supervision - a unit that focuses only on effective supervision of clients involved with the court system; and Administration - an alternative sanctions continuum of treatment and support services for pre-trial and sentenced adults and juveniles purchased under contract by CSSD with community based providers comprising a statewide network that serves each judicial district. The CSSD also incorporates Family Civil Services and Family Criminal Court Services.

For more information on CSSD please visit their web site at www.jud.ct.gov/CSSD.

Department of Correction (DOC)

The Commissioner of the Department of Correction, Theresa C. Lantz, by direction of the courts, confines and controls approximately 18,600 accused and sentenced offenders in 14 correctional institutions, 4 correctional centers and various units; and by statute administers medical, mental health, rehabilitative, and community based service programs. DOC mission is to protect the public and staff while ensuring the secure, safe and humane supervision of offenders with opportunities that support successful community reintegration. The DOC’s Division of Parole and Community Services represents the consolidated community supervision and enforcement functions of the Department of Correction and the Board of Pardons and Paroles, which were combined in the fall of 2004 at the direction of the General Assembly.

For more information on the Department of Correction please visit their web site at www.ct.gov/doc.

Board of Pardons and Paroles (BOPP)

The Connecticut Board of Pardons and Paroles, under the direction of Robert Farr, Chairman, is committed to protecting the public by making responsible panel and staff decisions regarding when and under what circumstances eligible persons may be granted a Pardon or Parole. BOPP is an autonomous panel with administrative support provided by the Department of Correction. The Board possesses discretionary authority to grant pardons for criminal convictions and to place appropriate offenders in the community under parole supervision as a means of supporting their successful reintegration into law abiding society. A full-time Victim Services Coordinator is responsible for assisting those victims of crimes who choose to participate in the decision-making processes of the Board.

For more information on the Board of Pardons and Paroles please visit the DOC web site at www.ct.gov/doc and click on “Board of Pardons and Paroles.”
