INTRODUCTION

This case concerns the death by suicide of Kevin P. Doherty in a holding cell at the South Windsor Police Department on December 26, 2022. On December 23, 2022, Doherty was arrested by officers of the South Windsor Police Department (SWPD) and charged with several domestic violence crimes as well as resisting arrest. He was transported to the police department, where he was held on bond pending a court date of December 27.

After Doherty was booked, he was placed in a cell. Sometime later, he was seen dry heaving over the toilet and his face was red. An officer asked if he wanted medical attention and he replied affirmatively, and an ambulance was called. The ambulance took Doherty to Rockville General Hospital, where an officer accompanied him. Doherty made suicidal remarks to the hospital staff, who told police he would need to be seen by a crisis team.

Doherty was returned to the custody of SWPD and placed back into his cell at about 3:00 p.m. on December 24. About 90 minutes later, he was seen on a monitor shoving toilet paper in his throat. An officer went in and removed the toilet paper. On December 25 at about 9:40 p.m. he was seen again trying to choke himself on toilet paper. On December 26 at 12:22 p.m. officers went to check on Doherty who appeared to be lying under a bench in the cell. Doherty was unresponsive to the officers, who noticed a faint pulse but no breathing. Officers attempted rescue efforts and called for an ambulance, which transported Doherty to Manchester Hospital, where he was pronounced dead. An investigation determined Doherty had stuffed two socks into his throat.

The Office of Inspector General together with the Connecticut State Police Eastern District Major Crime Squad investigated Doherty's in-custody death. The results of that investigation are contained in this report.

The investigation establishes that Doherty committed suicide and his death was not due to a peace officer's use of force against him nor from any other criminal action.

INVESTIGATION

Arrest on December 23, 2022

On Friday, December 23, 2022, just before 6:00 p.m., officers from the South Windsor Police Department were dispatched to a domestic violence call to Berry Patch Road. The caller reported her son was there and was intoxicated and out of control. Officers Christopher Myska, Kaitlyn Pierpont, Linda Hernando, Kyle Kolcharno, and Sergeant Joseph Futtner went to the address. Arriving officers encountered Mary Doherty, 85, and her son Kevin, a 55-year-old Caucasian male. Police determined that Kevin had assaulted his mother, causing a nosebleed. During the police investigation, Kevin was initially calm but then became agitated and resisted officers' attempts to place him under arrest. One officer used a taser against his calf to force him to comply so that he could be handcuffed.

At the SWPD, Doherty was processed on several charges, and the police set his bond at $250,000 cash or surety. He was given an opportunity to contact a bail bondsman, but he was not able to secure release. Because of the Christmas holiday weekend, the next available court date was December 27. He was placed in a cell.

Officer Christopher J. Myska

Officer Myska, one of the arresting officers, also assisted booking Doherty, brought him a meal and his medications, and transported him to the hospital. His report states:

"At HQ, we processed Kevin per policy. Kevin asked for food and his medications after we finished booking him. I went and got Kevin a meal and his medications. When I returned to cell 1, where Kevin was being held, he was dry heaving over the toilet and was red. I asked Kevin what was wrong and if he would like an ambulance. Kevin said that he did want an ambulance. ...

"I checked Kevin's radial pulse and asked him what was wrong. Kevin said that he felt bad but did not tell me specifically what was wrong."<sup>1</sup>

The Ambulance Service of Manchester arrived. Myska secured Doherty to their stretcher with restraints and followed the ambulance to Rockville General Hospital. His report continues:

<sup>1</sup> Records from the ambulance crew that responded indicate that Doherty told them he was having an anxiety attack.

“At Rockville General Hospital, Kevin was placed in a room. Kevin’s shackles remained on while I watched him in the Emergency Room. During my time in the Emergency Room, the battery for my department-issued body camera was exhausted and the camera shut off. I was in the room with Kevin when the medical providers came to see Kevin until he was diagnosed with COVID. I then moved outside the room where I could see Kevin through the glass and went into the room whenever a staff member had contact with him. While in the ER, Kevin told 2 Doctors and a Nurse that he wanted to die and planned on jumping in front of the “T” in Massachusetts, where he lived. The staff told me he would have to stay and be seen by the Crisis Team. A staff member had Kevin blow into a breathalyzer and told us that his test returned at 0.157. Kevin had told us during booking that he only had one drink at [10:00 a.m.] before getting on the bus to come to Connecticut.”

According to other reports and a prisoner check report, Doherty was returned to a cell at the SWPD at 3:04 p.m. on December 24.

Medical Records from Rockville General Hospital

According to the records from the Emergency Room visit, Doherty complained of flu-like symptoms, anxiety, and nausea. He told staff that he was in treatment for alcohol use. He made statements characterized as suicidal ideation in that he said, “it’s over, I’m going to jump in front of the Orange Line in Boston and end it.”<sup>2</sup> He was examined and had a rapid pulse rate and a fever. He tested positive for COVID-19. Staff administered a Breathalyzer test which registered a blood-alcohol level of 0.157. The medical diagnosis was COVID-19, alcohol intoxication, and depression. A psychiatric evaluation was ordered based on his intoxication and suicidal remarks.

During the psychiatric evaluation with Kirlene X. Lindsay-Henry, a licensed clinical social worker, Doherty continued to discuss taking his life. He also mentioned he tried to end his life in 2019 by stepping in front of a bus but was unsuccessful. He said he was admitted to a Boston hospital due to suicidal ideation in 2021. The records indicate a diagnosis of depressive disorder and substance-related addictive disorder. Lindsay-Henry consulted with the on-call psychiatrist, who recommended “discharge to police care.” Lindsay-Henry noted that Doherty “appears to be seeking hospital admission as secondary gains to avoid jail.” She further noted:

“Though patient presents risk factors of age, gender, [alcohol] use, depression, and anxiety, SI, he does not appear to be an imminent risk of harm to self and others at this time and is to be discharged back into police custody. Spoke with officer present in emergency department who confirms safety checks will be in place and other precautionary measures.”

The social worker's crisis consultation was completed at 2:30 p.m. on December 24. He was discharged ten minutes later.

The hospital records contain a document named, "Columbia-Suicide Severity Rating Scale." The form appears to have been completed on December 23 at 9:43 p.m. and classified Doherty as presenting a "high risk" warranting appropriate safety interventions including enhanced monitoring and an "environmental safety check." On December 24 at 8:26 a.m. the assessment was completed again and changed to "moderate risk."

SWPD Detainee Policy

The South Windsor Police Department's policy on supervision of detainees is contained in Operations Directive 72-2. In a section on suicide prevention, the policy provides guidance to the watch commander for a prisoner who is evaluated at a medical facility and subsequently returned to police custody. In such a situation, the watch commander is to ensure the detainee is more closely monitored. For example, the policy states, the watch commander may arrange for increasing the frequency of cell checks to every 15 minutes, assign someone to continually monitor the video feed, or assign an officer to remain in the holding area.

Suicide in Cell

Prisoner Check Report

The SWPD's Prisoner Check Report documents each instance of monitoring for detainees held in a holding cell. The log lists date and time, person conducting the monitoring, the type of monitoring, and any descriptive comments. According to SWPD's Prisoner Check Report, Doherty returned from the hospital and was back in his cell at 3:04 p.m. on December 24. The report shows Doherty was observed at various intervals, some as short as three minutes, and some as long as 90 minutes. Notable log entries include:

12/24/22 4:24 p.m.	shoving toilet paper in his throat and trying to make himself gag or puke

12/25/22 9:40 p.m.	tore off pieces of toilet paper and began gagging on it

A review of the various body-worn camera videos showed that on both occasions noted above, officers intervened and removed the toilet paper from Doherty's cell. In one instance an officer asked why he was putting it in his mouth and he answered, "because I'm nauseous." To view the entire Prisoner Check Report, click here.

Officer Caleb Lopez

Officer Caleb Lopez wrote a report summarizing the call to assistance at the cell that took place at about 12:23 p.m. on December 26. A police dispatcher who had been monitoring the video feed of Doherty's cell notified Officers Lopez and Victoria Weiss that Doherty appeared to be lying under the bench. The officers went to the cell and noticed Doherty on his back on the ground with his legs inserted through the cell bars. His arms were by his side, and he did not respond to verbal prompts. By placing his legs in the cell bars, officers were initially unable to open the cell door to provide aid. With some effort, they removed his legs so the door could be opened. Doherty was dragged to the main booking area where there was more room. Lopez detected a faint pulse but no breathing. He noted Doherty's tongue was partially sticking out. After "several moments," Lopez reported that Doherty's pulse was "no longer palpable" and that officers began CPR. Several other officers arrived to assist. While attempting to clear his airway, Lopez saw something yellow in his throat. He reached into his mouth and removed a yellow sock and a blue piece of the pajamas that Doherty had been provided.

Additional details were provided in a report by Sergeant Michael Prescher, who was also participating in the rescue effort. Prescher reported that once the yellow sock was removed, he attempted to insert an airway into Doherty before another officer resumed rescue breathing. However, Doherty's airway still appeared to be obstructed. Ambulance Services of Manchester then arrived and took over medical care. They were able to locate and remove a second sock from Doherty's throat with a pair of forceps. Rescue personnel continued to perform CPR in the booking area before transporting Doherty to Manchester Hospital.

Medical Records from Manchester Hospital

Ambulance Service of Manchester noted in their report that Doherty's airway was completely obstructed and that he was not breathing when they arrived at the booking area to treat him at 12:31 p.m. While attempting life-saving procedures, EMTs opened Doherty's mouth wider and saw a second sock inside his throat. They were able to remove it and continued CPR. At 1:02 p.m. EMTs transported Doherty to Manchester Hospital. He arrived at 1:10 p.m. where hospital staff continued to try to save his life, but he was pronounced dead at 1:29 p.m.

Digital Evidence

The Eastern District Major Crime Squad of the Connecticut State Police took responsibility for processing the scene of the suicide at SWPD. Detectives took photographs of the cell block area, including the cell where Doherty had stayed. Detectives also obtained the body-worn cameras (BWC) of the officers who interacted with Doherty both at the hospital and in the police station. They also obtained the recordings from the camera that monitored Doherty's cell. The digital footage of the cell videos and BWCs is comprehensive. One portion of the video shows a paramedic placing two yellow socks on Doherty's feet at the hospital. A summary of the relevant portions of the cellblock video and BWC follows:

Doherty is lying on his side on the bed with a blanket over him. His feet are bare. He changes position, getting onto his hands and knees on the bed with the blanket covering his back and head. He is facing away from the cell door and away from the camera. He appears to be moving his arms in front of his face. He stands up and then moves to the floor. As he does so, a yellow object and a smaller bluish-white cloth-like object can be seen hanging out of his mouth. He lies on the floor adjacent to the bed, puts the blanket over his head and torso, and moves his upper body under the bed. During the next minute his body squirms slowly, and then thrashes a bit, before movement stops. During this time, Doherty's face cannot be seen as it is either covered with the blanket or it is under the bed. Two minutes and thirty-five seconds after Doherty puts his head under the cell bed, the first officer arrives to help.

Autopsy

Kevin Doherty's body was taken to the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner for an autopsy, which was performed by Jacqueline Nunez, M.D. on December 28, 2022. She confirmed the manner of death as suicide.

FINAL DIAGNOSIS

- I. Airway Obstruction By Foreign Object (Socks):
  - A. Clinical History of Oropharynx Obstruction by Socks with Forceps Extraction
  - B. Distal Tongue and Upper Airway Erythema
  - C. Pulmonary Edema
- II. Blunt Impact Injuries of Head, Torso, and Extremities:
  - A. Cutaneous Abrasions and Contusions
- III. Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) Respiratory Infection
- IV. Status-Post Resuscitation:
  - A. Fractures of Ribs
  - B. Fractures of Sternum

CAUSE OF DEATH: Asphyxia Due to Upper Airway Obstruction by Foreign Body

MANNER OF DEATH: Suicide (Lodged Socks in Airway)

Toxicology testing indicated the presence of the anti-depressant drug Trazodone. No illicit substances were detected.

FINDINGS

1. Kevin P. Doherty was arrested by the members of the South Windsor Police Department on December 23, 2022, and charged with several crimes. A bond was set, which he was unable to post. Therefore, he was set to remain in custody until his court date of December 27.
2. That evening while in a holding cell, Doherty complained of illness. An ambulance was called, and he was taken to the hospital. He was diagnosed with COVID-19, alcohol intoxication, and depression. He told at least one doctor that he wanted to go home to Massachusetts and kill himself by jumping in front of a train. This conversation was witnessed by Officer Christopher Myska. The hospital told Myska that Doherty would need to be seen by a crisis team. Hospital staff informed Myska that Doherty's blood-alcohol level was 0.157.
3. Doherty was initially assessed as "high risk" for suicide when he arrived the evening of December 23. The next morning, staff changed the classification to "medium risk." Doherty was evaluated by social worker Kirlene X. Lindsay-Henry who then consulted with the on-call psychiatrist. The social worker noted Doherty was not an imminent risk to harm himself, and he was discharged back into police custody at 2:40 p.m. on December 24.
4. While back in the holding cell, SWPD personnel periodically observed Doherty in the cell. Doherty engaged in two incidents of self-harm that were quickly attended to by officers. In both instances Doherty shoved toilet paper down his throat and was gagging on it. Officers removed the toilet paper and Doherty remained in his cell.
5. On December 26 at about 12:20 p.m. Doherty pulled a blanket over his head and placed two yellow hospital socks and a piece of blue fabric into his throat. He got under the cell bed and began choking on the items while inserting both his legs into the cell bars. Officers were notified by a dispatcher who saw Doherty on the floor, partially under the bed. When the officers arrived, it took them two minutes to push his legs through the cell so that the door could be opened. He was unresponsive to their verbal prompts.
6. Once officers opened the cell door, they moved Doherty to the booking area and immediately attempted to perform life-saving measures, including rescue breathing and CPR. Officer Caleb Lopez removed a sock from Doherty's throat.

7. EMTs from Ambulance Service of Manchester arrived and took over rescue attempts. They removed a second sock from Doherty's mouth. They transported him to the hospital where he was pronounced dead at 1:29 p.m.

8. On December 28, 2022, Associate Medical Examiner Dr. Jacqueline Nunez performed an autopsy on Doherty. She determined his death to be a suicide caused by asphyxia from the socks lodged in his upper airway.

LAW

Under Connecticut law the Office of Inspector General is charged with, inter alia, investigating the death of persons who die while in the custody of a peace officer or law enforcement agency. Specifically, the Inspector General shall determine whether physical force was used by a peace officer upon the deceased person and, if so, whether the use of physical force by the peace officer was justifiable under § 53a-22. The version of that statute in effect on December 26, 2022, in relevant part, provides:

General Statutes §51-277a(a)(2)(A) provides in part:

"... whenever a person dies in the custody of a peace officer or law enforcement agency, the Inspector General shall investigate and determine whether physical force was used by a peace officer upon the deceased person, and if so, whether the use of physical force by the peace officer was justifiable under section 53a-22. If the Inspector General determines that the person died as a result of possible criminal action not involving the use of force by a peace officer, the Inspector General shall refer such case to the Division of Criminal Justice for potential prosecution."

General Statutes §53a-22, as applicable here, provides:

"(b) ... a peace officer ... is justified in using physical force upon another person when and to the extent that he or she reasonably believes such use to be necessary to: (1) Effect an arrest or prevent the escape from custody of a person whom he or she reasonably believes to have committed an offense, unless he or she knows that the arrest or custody is unauthorized; or (2) defend himself or herself or a third person from the use or imminent use of physical force while effecting or attempting to effect an arrest or while preventing or attempting to prevent an escape.

Neither General Statutes Chapter 886, nor the penal code define the terms "physical force" or "criminal action." For purposes of this report, I apply such terms in accord with their ordinary meanings.

ANALYSIS

Officers used a minimal amount of physical force to take Doherty into custody during his arrest, which he resisted. Police officers applied no additional force against Doherty during the time he was in their custody. Doherty's death was caused by his suicide and not due to any criminal action.<sup>3</sup>

CONCLUSION

The investigation establishes that the South Windsor Police Department used reasonable force in taking Kevin Doherty into custody. That force had nothing to do with his death and there was no criminal action related to the cause of his death. Accordingly, the Office of Inspector General will take no further action in this case.

<sup>3</sup> Hospital staff perhaps improvidently downgraded Doherty's suicide risk assessment from high to moderate, opting to discharge him back into police custody on Christmas Eve instead of holding him for further treatment.
