III. DEPARTMENT ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Department of Transportation has jurisdiction over any person operating any motor vehicle in the transportation of household goods for hire as a household goods carrier pursuant to Section 13b-389 of the Connecticut General Statutes. Further, no person shall operate as a household goods carrier, within Connecticut, without first obtaining a certificate of public convenience and necessity to operate.

In determining whether such a certificate shall be granted, the Commissioner of Transportation shall take into consideration the existing motor transportation facilities and the effect upon them of granting such a certificate, the suitability of the applicant, the financial responsibility of the applicant, the ability of the applicant efficiently to perform the service for which the authority is requested, the criminal history of the applicant, the condition of and effect upon the highways involved and the safety of the public using such highways pursuant to Section 13b-392 of the Connecticut General Statutes.

The first criterion to be taken into account is the effect on the existing motor carrier facilities by granting the certificate. This application was not opposed by any existing motor carrier so it appears that there would not be any effect on the existing motor carrier facilities if this application were granted.

As far as the applicant's financial ability is concerned, the applicant presented evidence that the applicant's first six months of start-up costs includes rent of $1,080, insurance of $1,066 maintenance of $200, cell phone bills of $750 and property tax of $23 for a total cost of $ 3,119. The applicant has $3,595 in a bank account, which is sufficient to cover these initial costs.

The applicant submitted a criminal record check for its only member Courtney Dunlap that shows no record. Mr. Dunlap is a highly educated professional who already runs a home health care company, Inspirational Care. Based on the evidence presented, the applicant is suitable to handle this proposed operation.

Another consideration is the applicant's ability to efficiently perform the service for which the authority is requested, the condition of and effect upon the highways involved and the safety of the public using such highways. The applicant plans to operate one pickup truck to perform this service, which will have little effect on the public or highways.

Based upon the evidence presented, the applicant has proven all of the necessary elements to be granted a certificate to operate.
